Counsel Plans Gray's Defense

Will Declare Gray Mentally Irresponsible At Time Of Murder

BAD BOOZE IS ALSO TO FIGURE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Counsel for Henry Judd Gray, whose illicit love affair with Mrs. Snyder led to the killing of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, are engaged in working out a complicated and elaborate plan of defense.

It is understood that it will be based upon three lines:

1. Gray was mentally irresponsible at the time of the act;

2. He was under the domination of Mrs. Snyder whose will was so much stronger than his that he was practically hypnotized.

3. He had been imbibing in "bad booze" which impaired his faculties.

Just what defense will be presented for Mrs. Snyder is not known but the fact that she retracted her confession and, along with Gray, pleaded not guilty at the preliminary hearing made it evident that she is going to make a strong fight for her life.

Demand Murder Indictment

District Attorney Newcombe, of Queens county, Long Island said he was ready to go before the grand jury today and demand an indictment for murder against both defendants.

"I plan to try them both for murder impartially without showing leniency to either one," said the District Attorney.

Asked if he would demand the electric chair for both, Newcombe said that phase of the case was too far in the future for discussion.

Funeral services were held for Snyder, who was art editor of the publication "Motor Boating" at his home in Queens Village last night and the body was to be interred today in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Only 50 friends and relatives were admitted to the house. While the Rev. Dr. Everett D. Lyons of the Dutch Reformed church of Queens Village, was conducting the service it required the efforts of six policemen and a detective to hold back a crowd of 1,000 morbidly curious men and women who

Detectives Arrest Washington Man As Suspect In Banditry

DETECTIVES HUNTING SUSPECT IN DETROIT

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 23.—Two more suspects in the $104,000 Coverdale payroll robbery were placed under arrest today, according to county detectives here.

John Szymanski was arrested in his home at Washington, Pa., while police investigated his whereabouts on the day of the bombing and holdup. Detroit police sent word that they are holding John Novak of Detroit for questioning in the case.

Szymanski was arrested on a tip which authorities here refused to divulge in detail. Novak was arrested after he was implicated by Paul Jaworski, who confessed his part in the crime among other holdups in this section

Joseph Weckoski, on whose farm near Charleroi part of the loot was recovered, is in Detroit with John Geisler, Allegheny county detective, leading the hunt for other members of the gang.

To Interview Prisoner.

JACKSON, Mich., March 23.—Frank Nowaczek, 25, who has just begun a 10 to 20-year sentence for robbery, was to be interviewed today by Detective John Geisler of Allegheny, Pa., who seeks to round up all the bandits participating in the $104,000 payroll robbery near Pittsburgh March 10.

Nowaczek was described by Joseph Weckoski, on whose farm near Pittsburgh part of the loot was found, as one of the men who used to hang around his place. Weckoski recognized Nowaczek's picture in the rogue gallery.

Nowaczek is said to be wanted in Pittsburgh for a $57,000 mine payroll holdup a year ago.

According to Geisler, Nowaczek is a member of the gang responsible for the recent $104,000 payroll robbery, although he did not participate in it. Nowaczek was sentenced for taking part in the holdup of the Patzer Food Products company's payroll February 5.

Ohio To Sit Back And Watch Mine Battle In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 23.—Government officials were advised today that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has called the miners' policy committee to meet in Indianapolis on March 28, four days before the expiration of the present wage contract in the bituminous fields.

It will be an extraordinary session to map out the union's campaign of attack during the suspension of mining operations in the central competitive field of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

The call indicates that Lewis has practically given up hope for another joint wage conference with operators to negotiate a working agreement.

Ohio On Fence.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 23.—Ohio is sitting on the fence while the miners' union and soft coal operators fight it out.

Ohio bituminous operators said today they will close down their union mines April 1st to await the outcome of the fight in Pennsylvania between non-union coal operators and the United Mine Workers. Ohio can do nothing else because it is locked as in a vise between the low cost coal production to the east and south and the higher cost production of union mines to the west.

West Virginia and Kentucky competition has hit Ohio harder than any other state. Ohio operators say they have made no money since 1924 under the Jacksonville wage agreement.

Problems of Ohio and Pennsylvania are almost identical so far as competition is concerned, but there is no general disposition among Ohio operators to run non-union if

High Water Cause Of Sewer Trouble, Declares Moseley

Says Two Rivers At Highest Stage Since 1913 Flood

According to J. L. Moseley, city sewer inspector, the trouble being occasioned with sewers in this city at the present time is due to the fact that the Shenango and Mahoning rivers are at a very high stage, and the sewers in some sections are being backed up.

The sewage disposal plant has been shut off because the Mahoning river is so high. The main sewer, however, has been opened at the Mahoning river, and sewage turned indirect.

Sewage is being by-passed into the Shenango river at Gardner avenue in an effort to relieve East Side distress.

Today Inspector J. L. Mosely was asked:

"Is anything being done to relieve the condition in Croton avenue?"

Mosely said: "No, because nothing can be done."

He explained that the main sewer has 'backed up' at Mahoning avenue and this condition affects the uptown section.

Mosely said that in other sections where relief can be secured the city is doing its utmost.

According to the inspector the rivers are exceedingly high, the Shenango being at its highest point since 1913.

Charles McKeever, superintendent of the disposal plant, reported to the engineering department that the plant has been shut down the sewers turned direct into the river.

Deputy Prepares To Seize Ballots In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 23.—Jerry C. South, special deputy of the Reed campaign fund investigating committee, completed his plans today for his invasion of Pennsylvania to seize additional ballots in Delaware, Lackawanna, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties.

Alone and armed only with the legal instruments at the disposal of the senate committee, South left for Philadelphia without revealing the details of his plan of operation in the "enemy stronghold".

First Demonstration Of Kind In History Of Local High School

(By "BUGS" WALTHER)

Folks, the war has been over these many years and the Fourth of July is many months hence. The noise, din and racket and what not, you heard last night in the vicinity of the spacious Ben Franklin high stadium was nothing more than some 8,000 people milling about and shouting the praises of the New Castle high school basketball team. The occasion was a rousing testimonial bonfire reception to the players and officials. It was New Castle's way of showing appreciation for the first basketball championship ever attained by a local team.

The event will go down in history of New Castle as the first of its kind and one of the most orderly exhibitions of exhuberant joy ever displayed here. There was not the least semblance of rowdyism, as the fans and high school students gathered around the field at the Franklin stadium and gave vent to their stored up energy. The cheering and noise could be heard for many blocks and the flare of the huge bonfire could be seen for quite some distance.

The demonstration will live long in the memories of those who participated. It was an evening unlike any other known here. There was one thing uppermost in the MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Mar. 23—Two prisoners escaped from the State Penitentiary here today by sliding down a wire rope suspended from the top of the high prison walls. They were "Alf" McFeeny, 39, Kanawha county, and Samuel D. Dees, 40 of Huntington.

Final Tribute Paid By Ctizens To David Jameson

Funeral Services Conducted At Home On Tuesday Afternoon

EULOGY IS GIVEN BY HON. J. N. MARTIN

Ceremony At Grave Marked By Address Of C. W. H. Hess

David Jameson, New Castle's foremost public benefactor, was laid in his last resting place in Oak Park cemetery Tuesday afternoon, following services at the home and the place of burial, in which hundreds of citizens of the community and from a distance paid final tribute in a manner that indicated the esteem in which he was held.

The services at the home, 330 North Jefferson street, started at the stroke of 3, as the fire whistle and bells of the fire departments sounded, and people of the city paused for the moment and paid silent tribute to the memory of the man whose thoughtfulness for others has in the past and will continue in the future, to relieve suffering and provide comfort and happiness through his generosity.

As the body lay in state in the family residence Monday evening and Tuesday until the hour of service, there were men and women from all walks of life, some whom he had helped, others who knew and appreciated him as a friend and advisor, who paused for a moment at his bier, their tears mingled with kindly thoughts for the man, who was no more, but whose efforts for others will continue on, through his foresight and thoughtfulness.

Service is Conducted.

Tuesday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock, the Jameson home on North Jefferson street was thronged with an outpouring of city and county officials, members of the Rotary club, the I. O. O. F. and citizens. At the hour of 3 o'clock, as the people of the city were called upon by the sounding of whistles and bells to pay a last tribute to Mr. Jameson, wherever they might be, the many people in the home at the invitation of Hon. J. Norman Martin, arose and stood in silence for a minute.

Then Mr. Martin gave his tribute to Mr. Jameson, in which he brought forth the character and sterling worth of the deceased friend and business associate. His remarks follow:

"I know this is a world of criticism and objection, of love and affection, but I have no word of apology in asking your forbearance for a little while that I may talk of honor and honesty, candor and frankness, justice and manly worth, in him whose heart beat in the plane or love, affection and charity for his fellows.

"I cannot know that everyone will sanction all that I may say, but an intimate acquaintanceship of more than 40 years may justify each utterance.

"Little things go far to make the lives of men. Walking through an alley in your city early in the morning I met two strangers—one, a little colored boy, who had fallen from a wagon and wept from the pain of a broken arm. Taking him in charge we learned his mother was a widow, supporting her children by washing when such work could be had. We took him to the office of a great-hearted man, Dr. Donnan, who reduced the fracture, contributing his skill in his profession to the relief of suffering. And then the doctor took him to his mother with a little more of

Wheat King Reads Articles To Jury In Ford Libel Suit

WARNING NOTE WAS SENT FORD

(International News Service)
FEDERAL BUILDING, Detroit, March 23.—Aaron Sapiro, so-called wheat king, began pleading his own case today at the trial of his million-dollar libel suit against Henry Ford.

The wheat king read to the jury one of the articles published by the Dearborn Independent after it had been admitted to evidence over the objections of Ford's counsel.

The article charged that radicals, communists and I. W. W.'s helped Sapiro organize his cooperatives in the northwest.

FEDERAL BUILDING, Detroit, March 23.—Henry Ford was sent a warning that the Dearborn Independent's attacks on Aaron Sapiro, so-called wheat king, were false, it was revealed today at the trial of the million-dollar libel suit in federal court.

The warning was written America's first billionaire by A. C. Cherry, general counsel of the Northwest Hay association. The letter was discussed during debate over its admission as evidence, along with another warning letter sent the Dearborn Independent by Cherry.

League Of Nations Commission Talks Of Disarmament

(International News Service)
GENEVA, March 23—The League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission had before it today the difficult task of striving to adjust the British and French these of disarmament.

M. Paul Boncour, French delegate, has submitted the French thesis, which is in opposition in almost all points to that submitted by Viscount Cecil on behalf of the British.

The British thesis provides for the regulation of war making bodies, whereas the French thesis provides for the regulation of all potential war making bodies.

The French thesis suggests a permanent board of inquiry, and it provides for the limitation of not only men actively in the military service but of men in the gendarmerie, customs guards and all others capable of being mobilized for war purposes.

Aerial disarmament, as proposed by the French, would include not only naval and military aerial forces but would be based on the total horsepower of aeroplanes and the total cubic volume of all airships owned by the contracting nations.

Reveal Woman And Lover Had Planned Flight To Europe

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Mrs. Ruth Snyder and her lover, Henry Judd Gray, dapper young corset salesman, planned to elope to Europe and "begin life over again" on the $50,000 insurance money of Mrs. Snyder's murdered husband, Albert, a high-official revealed today.

This development was followed by a new sensation in the announcement by District Attorney Newcomb that Haddon Gray, Syracuse friend of Judd Gray, admitted today that he had disposed of a blood-stained vest belonging to the salesman. The charges against Mrs. Snyder and Judd Gray were presented to the grand jury shortly after noon by Newcombe who had announced that he would seek speedy indictments against both prisoners for first degree murder.

Weingartner Administration Election Bill Is Recommitted To Committee

Spirited Debate Occasioned—Vote On Recommittal Is 29-11

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 23.—Following the first spirited general discussion of the present session the administration bill for mandatory opening of ballot boxes today went back to the committee on elections. Only 11 votes could be mustered to prevent its recommittal. There were 29 to send it back.

The motion for the recommittal was made by Senator Albert Davis, Lackawanna, chairman of the elections committee. The motion precipitated a general debate and interrogation of Davis.

Asks If Governor Is Aware

Senator Weingartner, Lawrence, sponsor of the administration bill, asked Senator Davis if the move was being made with the consent of the governor. Davis replied that he did not know.

Senator Hoffman, Monroe, a Democrat, asserted that if the bill had been introduced in good faith there was no reason for sending it back to committee. He insisted repeatedly that to do so was "merely a stall".

Davis jumped to his feet and interrupted Hoffman. He took offense at the use of the word "stall". He denied that was the intention of his committee and promised that the bill would have full consideration.

Wants Chance to Vote

Hoffman said that the bill is the one the governor talked about during his campaign and continuously since. The bill, he maintained, gave "an honest man" an opportunity to check up on crooked election boards. He added that a great many of the senators wanted a chance to vote for it in its present form and before a committee had a chance of weakening it.

Supporting Hoffman, Senator Mansfield, Allegheny, said that he too wanted a chance to vote for the bill as it was and that he would oppose the move to send it back to committee.

Senator Leslie, Allegheny, insisted that Davis tell him at once just when the committee was going to meet and where. Leslie, who is a

SENATE PASSES SEVERAL BILLS

Fire-Arms Bill Is Held Over Until Next Monday For Action

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 23.—With the troublesome administration bill out of the way the senate today hurried through the other less dangerous items on its list with as much speed as possible.

The Salus bill which would require the payment of a fee and registration to own a revolver and otherwise greatly circumscribe the possession of all deadly weapons was put down as a holdover. It may come up for final action Monday night.

The appropriation of $2,500,000 to carry into effect the provisions of the mother's assistance fund passed in the 1919 session was approved. It now goes to the house.

The Pennsylvania-Archaeological commission to study the life and habitations of the Indians would be created under the bill of Senator Sordoni, Luzerne, which also passed finally.

The measure to increase the hunters license fee from $1.25 to $2.25 also went over in order for later action. The money derived from the estimated $500,000 which would be obtained annually would be used for the purchase of forest land the establisment of game refuges.

Once through the final action calendar the senate accelerated speed to get rid of the measures which will come up for final action Monday night. All but five bills on the second reading calendar were passed as fast as they could be read.

The Senate adjourned at 12:50 until Monday evening.

Co-eds To Get Chance To Earn College Letter

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 23.—Director of Athletics James W. Coleman is planning a system whereby co-eds at Westminster may earn varsity letters and class numerals for participation in interclass athletics. Since the varsity basketball team for girls has been dropped the young women of the college have no opportunity to win their coveted letters.

It is part of a plan by Director Coleman, which he hopes to have under way next year, which will give incentive to required work in physical training. Under the prospective system class numerals and letters will be awarded on the basis of points annexed to the individual's credit for participation in inter-class activities. These activities will probably include field hockey, soccer, volley ball, tennis, basketball and swimming. Such a versatile range of possible class teams will offer every girl an opportunity to acquire her numerals or a letter at least once while in college.

Making Plans For Pageant

Several Hundred Westminster Students To Take Part In Presentation

DIAMOND JUBILEE TO BE CELEBRATED

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 23.—Visions are rapidly becoming realizations, as plans for the annual May Day pageant at Westminster gradually take shape. Mrs. Mary C. McConagha, director of pageantry, has already outlined this year's May festival which should be one of the greatest in the history of the college.

The general theme of the pageant this year will be the history of Westminster, another feature of the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the college. In commemoration of 75 years of service, the outdoor spectable will picture Westminster's past, the spirited present, and glimpses of the future. In divers tableaus, the spirit of Westminster is to be shown as it influences the different nations of the world, particularly in the foreign mission fields where many alumni have brought fame to the little college.

Under the direction of Miss Helen Webb, athletic director of the Oakmont high school, the girls of Mrs. McConagha's pageantry class are being instructed in dancing. Each girl, in turn, is then to be placed in charge of a special group in the many tableaus. This subdivides the work and makes possible more extensive preparations and a much larger pageant than would be possible otherwise.

Practically everyone in college, as has been the case for a number of years, will have a part in the great outdoor festival. Some few preliminary rehearsals have already been held, and great interest is being manifested even at this early stage.

Initiate 142 Into Caliphs Of Bagdad

Ceremonies At Cathedral Last Night In Charge Of Sharon Men

An initiation class of 142 made the trip over the road last night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral when over 650 Masons from all over western Pennsylvania attended the ceremonial of the Caliphs of Bagdad.

This is the largest initiation class that was ever put through here and was conducted by the Sharon degree team. The Yellow Dog degree was conferred first and then followed the conferring of the degree of the Caliph of Bagdad.

After the work of the degree teams was over, the crowd were entertained by a vaudeville show and then the festivities ended in a grand feast so that it was well after midnight before the affair was all over.

These affairs of the Caliphs of Bagdad are held three or four times annually and are counted one of the biggest and best of the mysterious occasions that are held at the cathedral. The spectacle of the hundreds in their costumes of many and varied colors was well worth seeing, says H. R. Richards, the Caliph himself.

POLICY MAKERS OF MINERS WILL MEET MARCH 28

they can obtain a wage reduction from the union.

Ohio To Suspend.

Ohio, therefore, is willing to suspend for many months to see if the union can be forced, or persuaded to grant a competitive wage scale based upon the non-union pay. Ohio is a cradle of unionism and it would require almost superhuman efforts to loosen the mine workers' grip.

If the Pittsburgh Coal Co. succeeds in driving the union from western Pennsylvania, Ohio operators believe they will be in a position to dictate terms of a new wage agreement. On the other hand, if the union wins, Ohio operators will be no worse off than at present because the union is demanding only a renewal of the existing wage contract.

A danger, however, to Ohio is that it may lose permanently to West Virginia and Kentucky its rich markets, if the suspension this year is a long one. Ohio production has fallen off between 25 and 30 per cent. since 1923.

"We must close down our mine or get a wage readjustment," said W. H. Haskins, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Operators' Association. "We cannot exist longer under the present arrangement."

Since 1898, when joint bargaining was established between the union and the operators, Haskins said production has increased as follows:—

Ohio, 100 per cent.; Indiana, 365 per cent.; Illinois, 272 per cent.; West Virginia, 748 per cent.; Kentucky, 1530 per cent.

Much Non-Union Mined Coal.

In this period, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois have been solidly union while in late years, West Virginia and Kentucky have operated open shop. In other words, development in union fields has lagged far behind growth in non-union fields.

Haskins said two-thirds of the coal being mined in the United States now is non-union.

Ohio operators resent the interference of the government in dictating terms of settlement of the 1919 and the 1922 strikes. They assert the government each time has favored the union.

Haskins asserted that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers," has never negotiated a wage contract."

"Each time the government has stepped in and made a settlement for him," said Haskins. "Because it was an election year, the government coerced the operations in 1922. We were called to Washington and told to sign on the dotted line. That won't be done this year."

There are 40,000 miners in Ohio. Both sides agree that at least 95 per cent of the men will go out.

Some of the mines which supply public utilities exclusively are anxious to renew the present agreement. Lewis may permit them to run.

The union is making plans to prevent an exodus of Ohio miners to West Virginia after April 1st.

sunshine than sometimes go with such conditions.

"The other stranger in that alley was David Jameson. From that chance meeting came a social and business friendship of his lifetime. Sometimes in little matters of care and charity for others; sometimes in great financial matters when men said, 'It is not, it is not,' and the keenest wits were used in the transaction. Oftener in the common affairs of life. And in such meetings we learn to know men; and always there was that straightforward, open, frank conduct and dealing that made his expression of opinion the judgment of those in interest.

"The Golden Rule was in his code of morals. At a conference of majority stockholders in the city of Cleveland, pointing his finger at a speaker he said, 'As ye would that men do unto you, do ye also unto them, and if your position is to be sanctioned at this meeting, we had better adjourn now.'

"He was pronounced in his likes and dislikes but he analyzed them to learn their cause and know the justice of them. Honor, honesty, candor, frankness, justice, promptness, manliness were his attributes. He was modest. He did not seek publicity. He believed that all people had an equal right in life and with his own hand wrote the charter words that a hospital should be erected 'to relieve suffering regardless of race, creed or financial ability of those receiving care.'

"As he passed out through the portal at high noon he feared no evil for he had lived a life of justice.

"'The labor of the day is ended.
The stars of the night now shine;
Jewels in precious setting,
Set in this life of thine.
There are sobs for those who sorrow.
There are tears for those who weep,
He will rest upon the morrow
In the constancy of sleep.'

"The sun of the Western Reserve warmed his boyhood days. The west and the south received him in his 'forenoon' of life and what he planted there grew to fruition; at 'Noon' he was president of a banking institution and connected with the large industries of the community, and his associates and patrons commended the fairness of his methods; in the 'Afternoon' his heart throbbed true to the life that he had lived, and crippled children, grown to strength, will call him blessed and the great walls of a hospital will publish to the world the deeds of mercy done within. Then 'Evening' came.

"Sunset and evening star, and one clear call for me:
And may there be no moaning of the bar when I put out to sea,
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

"Twilight and evening bell, and after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell when I embark;
For, though from out our bourne of time and place the flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face when I have crost the bar."

The service came to a close with the remarks of Mr. Martin, the last leave was taken and casket was borne from the home through the ranks of the honorary pallbearers as they stood with uncovered heads at the front entrance, and placed in the funeral car.

The honorary pallbearers were Dr. L. W. Wilson, T. F. Morehead, John H. Lamb, George R. Balph, James M. Smith, John C. Taggart, F. L. Rentz and R. T. Brown.

The active pallbearers were from the personnel of the Citizens National bank and were John J. Maher, Harry C. Dinsmore, Clifford H. Young, Paul S. Fischer, Donald Neal and Alfred Owens.

Services at Grave.

Scores of people, including members of New Castle lodge No. 195, I. O. O. F., and the Rotary club, preceded the funeral procession to Oak Park cemetery and were in the vicinity of the Jameson plot as the procession arrived.

Here the concluding services were held under the auspices of New Castle lodge No. 195, I. O. O. F., with many members participating and with C. W. Herman Hess, past grand, as spokesman. His remarks were a fitting close to the services of the day.

His remarks follow:

"We have met to perform a sacred duty which we believe to be also a privilege. Not only do we feel the obligation, but we have a strong desire to give expression to our sorrow and our love. We wish to express our respect for a departed brother, to speak of our appreciation of one who entered into our councils, who participated in our pleasures and who contributed to our power to extend the beneficent influences of that fraternal spirit which is the genius of our order.

"Out of life's activities, its pleasures, duties, cares and strife we take time that we may consecrate it to fraternal memories and to the expression of affection's tribute to one who knew and loved, and to whom we were bound by the ties of Odd Fellowship.

"Death has again invaded our ranks and taken from us another brother. There is a vacancy in our midst, a voice in our councils has been silenced, and sadness has found place in our hearts.

"Slender is the cord that ties a human life to earth. Strong is the bond that closely binds a spirit to our souls. At any moment may come the call that surely must be answered—the summons that takes away a loved one and crushes, with cruel sorrow, human hearts. Death takes some dear one, and, in his place, leaves sorrow, loneliness and pain. But though this life-cord so easily is broken and separations are so quickly brought about, there is a heart-tie that no death can break. Our eyes, our ears may fail; our touch or any other sense may not reveal the presence of the loved one; yet the spirit cannot be removed from its own place in loving human hearts. Memory holds clear and fond affection cherishes the soul we knew and know, the one who was and is our own. Love is more real in sorrow than in joy. Indeed, grief has ever been one of the strongest proofs of love.

"Though we part from them never to meet again on earth, yet do we feel that somewhere, somehow, we shall join our friends. We look forward to other conditions when, with clearer vision, we shall know them in forms that never fade, in states that never change, in affections that are never dulled. And, in that better time, we shall no more be pained by cruel partings and by hard good-byes.

"Earth to earth, dust to dust and ashes to ashes.

"Farewell, our dear brother, Past Grand David Jameson."

Floral tributes were magnificent and expressive of the appreciation of those who sent them. They filled three carriages and were transported to and arranged about the place of burial for the concluding part of the services.

Through the courtesy of Mayor William H. Dunlap, the police department of the city was placed at the disposal of the Jameson family during the service and following it. Mounted state police officers also assisted and the throng at the home and the procession to the cemetery were handled expeditiously and without incident or interference. Lincoln avenue between North Jefferson street and Highland avenue was kept entirely free from traffic, while at the various street intersections on Highland avenue enroute to Oak Park cemetery, there were officers, who stopped crosswise traffic and prevented intereference with or interruption of the funeral procession. The same condition prevailed at the cemetery. The funeral procession was led all the way to the cemetery by two motorcycle officers of the city.

THOUSANDS AT CELEBRATION FOR SCHOOL CHAMPS

minds of the populace gathered around the bonfire. New Castle high school had won the W. P. I. A. L. title and why not shout? Why not let the boys know just how much the fans thought of them? It may and it may not be a many a year until another Red and Black team wins a championship, but this didn't seem to bother the fans and students one bit, no siree, they had a chance to shout all they wanted too and there were not many bashful persons on hand.

Parade is Spectacle.

The ceremony opened at 7:30 with the staging of a big parade over the downtown streets to the Franklin field, in which close to 1,000 persons participated. Exactly at the hour appointed a bomb was fired and this was the signal for the testimonial to open. Grand Marshal George Muse had seen to it that the parade was ready to start. Two motorcycle officers of the city police force led the way and cleared the streets as the paraders started their journey to Franklin field.

Directly behind the motorcycle officers strode Grand Marshall Attorney George Muse flanked by his aides, Dr. John McConahey, William J. Connery, James Carson, James Lamoree, Edward Raney and William Fazzone. City and county officers were next in line.

The New Castle high school uniformed band of 62 pieces under the direction of LaVerne Irvine blared forth a popular tune as the parade wended its way over East Washington street. Directly behind the band rode the members of the New Castle high team in machines and following the team, carrying hundreds of red flares, were close to 1,000 members of the student body of the senior high school.

The parade proceeded to Lutton street via East Washington and south on Lutton to DuShane street. East on DuShane street to the lower gate of the stadium.

At Franklin Field.

As the paraders entered the field they found close to 6,000 on hand for the celebration. The crowd had assembled in the concrete stands and wherever in fact there was sufficent room to park.

A huge truck had been donated for the occasion and Attorney Muse mounting this called for order. A pin could have been heard as the crowd became silenced and Attorney Muse opened the ceremony with a fine euology to the team and the officials for their brilliant victory. As each player was introduced to the throng from the platform of the truck it was a signal for a vociferous display of lung-power, each player was cheered to the echo, the scrubs being accorded the same welcome that greeted the varsity team.

The next spectacle that had been carefully planned proved to be one of the features of the night. The New Castle Basketball team had charge of the fireworks display and they were beautiful. One large piece flared forth with "Welcome Champs," another was a huge "American Fag" and another the New Castle Ball club. Following the piece display a large number of aerial bombs were fired and other small displays.

Klaber Lights Bonfire

Shortly after 8 o'clock Captain Clarence Klaber who is not eligible for the team at the present time owing to his having graduated in January applied the torch to the monster pile of wood that stood in the center of the field.

The bonfire last night rivalled any that any college in the country ever burned. It is estimated that the stack of wood was at least fifteen feet high and perhaps fifty feet in circumference. Gallons of oil that had been spilled over the wood caused the fire to flare forth and it burned fiercely, it was mighty hot also.

The high school students formed a snake-dance and danced and gyrated around the blaze for perhaps an hour. The cheering was deafening and ever so loud. The fans and towns-people were content to watch the proceedings from vantage points in the concrete stands. The youngsters certainly made the most of the occasion and it was tired but happy lot that filed out of the stadium shortly before 10 o'clock.

The ceremonies at Franklin Field over, the students of the high school organized a parade and snake-dance of their own over the downtown streets until a late hour.

The committee wishes to thank the following for their services in making the celebration a success last night. Without their aid the affair would have been rather "flat": Mayor William H. Dunlap, Junior High School, New Castle News Company, City Firemen, City Policemen, New Castle Ball Club, P. & O. Electric Company, American Legion, Independent Athletic Association, Basiles Southside Boys' Band, Senior High band, Carnegie Steel Mill, Shenango Tin Mill, New Castle Works, Blair Strip Steel, Atlantic Oil Refinery, Freedom Oil Works, Dean's Oil Company, New Castle Box Factory, Citizens Lumber company, New Castle Lumber and Construction Company, Curry Lumber company, Dewberry Transfer, Rich-Overland company, P. & L. E., P. R. R., Penn-Coal company, Brown Feed company, Senior High School and all others who aided in the committee in the work of staging the testimonial.

The P. & O. Electric company had sufficient lighting power at the field and together with the bonfire the scene was almost like day. It certainly was a lot of work for one day of preparation but the boys went about their duties without a grumble.

The committee in charge of the testimonial reception last night consisted of Eddie Connery, Alec Samuels and Charles "Bugs" Walther. Time was limited but the boys worked fast and the occasion went off in a most satisfactory and smooth manner.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

A NEW NOBILITY

This man Mussolini is a most annoying person. He in constantly upsetting our comfortably established notions.

Now, for one thing, we Americans just love to hate a dictator. If there is any one ideal which may be called truly American, it is the ideal of self-government. We have become so accustomed to giving our reference without, question to his ideal, that we can hardly view with patience the spectacle presented by any people that submits to dictatorship. We have become very much saddened about Italy and her apparently enthusiastic acceptance of Mussolini.

But we Americans have another ideal, which we cannot afford to lose sight of for an instant. That is the ideal of tolerance. If democracy is good for us, and if we are satisfied to live under a republican form of government, is it not quite possible that a dictator may suit another people, and may not a dictator even be good for another people, quite diverse from ourselves?

I do not know about Mussolini and his dictatorship. I have the American loathing for dictators. Yet, too, I want to be tolerant of the ideals and aspirations of other peoples, whom I do not understand. If the Italians want Mussolini to govern Italy, I am more than willing that they should try him out.

Every once in a while Mussolini issues another decree. Some of these decrees sound like mere bombast, designed to remind the people that Mussolini is still boss. Some of the decrees have to do with trifles. We are told that one order forbids passengers to put their feet up on the seats opposite them, in railway coaches. Now, that isn't a bad rule. It's a good one. And it is enforced, we are told. It's trifling, surely, but life is made up of trifles.

And now comes a decree creating a new nobility. It is the "nobility of good conduct." Any family that behaves itself so that every member is above reproach in public and private life, for at least 30 years, is entitled to a coat of arms and enrollment in a new register of nobility.

That's fine. It is a start in the right direction. If people want nobility and coats of arms, let them earn the honor by good conduct, instead of by making big contributions to campaign funds for winning candidates, as is the custom in some countries.

The scheme would be perfect if it were made applicable to individuals as well as to families. And the coat of arms should be junked when the individual fails to shut off his radio when his neighbors want to sleep.

Gas in the Stomach Is Truly Dangerous

Gas, Pain, Bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing chronic Gastritis and dangerous Ulcers. Food ferments and sours, forming a gas that distends the stomach and often seriously affects the heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition or to treat with artificial digestive aids that cannot neutralize the stomach acid. A better way is to get from your druggist a few tiny tablets of Bisurated Magnesia and take three or four of them after each meal. This famous but simple and inexpensive stomach sweetner and anti-acid can be depended upon to prove its value in less than five minutes. In most instances, relief comes instantly! Pleasant and perfectly harmless to use—Bisurated Magnesia tablets do give wonderful relief in nine out of ten cases. Ask your doctor or druggist.

Mayor To Ask For List Of Eligibles

Mayor William H. Dunlap as head of the police department probably will ask for a list of eligibles for appointment to the department at the next meeting of council. Indications are that George S. Kennedy, former lieutenant of the department and county detective will be named. He was placed on the reserve list of eligibles when he left the department.

COUNSEL PLANS GRAY'S DEFENSE

tried to break into the house to see the corpse.

Guard Over Cells

Fearing that Gray and Mrs. Snyder may attempt suicide, police placed a twenty-four hours suicide guard over the cells. A deputy sheriff was instructed to keep constant guard over Gray and a woman matron was placed outside the cell of Mrs. Snyder.

Instructions were given that electric lights be kept burning outside their cells all night.

Gray admitted that he has been intimate with Mrs. Snyder for two years and that he met her as often as twice a week in the hotel and in her home. He said he had a skeleton key to the Snyder home. He also said that Mrs. Snyder would rent a room in a hotel in Fifth avenue, near where he was employed, and wait for him there.

The murder plot was first broached by Mrs. Snyder in the hotel six weeks ago, he said. She told Gray that she wanted to get rid of her husband and had planned to increase his life insurance.

Mrs. Gray is remaining loyal to her husband despite his admitted faithlessness and confession of murder.

ELECTION REFORM MOVED TWO YEARS AHEAD IN STATE

member of the committee, asserted that he did not want a meeting unless he knew something about it.

Reports emanating from behind the closed doors of the committee room yesterday gave Leslie credit with turning insurgent and insisting that the bill be reported to the floor of the Senate in its present form.

After the committee meeting yesterday the bill was so reported and placed on the calendar for consideration today.

The six Republicans who voted to keep the bill before the Senate were Gelder, Susquehanna; Kunkle, Westmoreland; Buchman, Bucks; Harris and Mansfield, Allegheny, and Weingartner, Lawrence. The five Democrats voted with them.

Immediately after the vote on the bill the committee went into secret session for consideration of amendments previously prepared. The bill was reported again to the floor at noon in much the same form as that which the sponsors of the bill have opposed.

The time limit for the allegation of fraud has been changed from four months to before completion of the official count. To obtain opening petitioners would have to act at once.

The words "or error" have been stricken entirely from the bill. Boxes could be opened only upon allegation of fraud. The construction of miscount would not come under "fraud", it is believed, and would be difficult to prove.

Instead of the petitioners coming from the county in which the fraud was alleged to have occurred they would, in cities, be limited to the wards.

Believes German Bible Printed In 1784 Of Much Value

Evangelist L. Schmidt, superintendent of the Bible House Mission, East North street, who is believed to have the oldest German Bible in this city, received a communication this morning from the American Bible Society of Pittsburgh, stating that a similar German Bible like the one that Mr. Schmidt owns was sold in New York City recently for $106,000.

Mr. Schmidt's Bible was printed in 1784 by Martin Luther, being among the first to be translated by him. A Guttenburg Bible is considered to be of more value than an English Bible on account of the difficult task of translating it years ago.

Mr. Schmidt has placed his Bible in one of the vaults of the city banks for safe keeping. Whatever price it brings he plans to give it all for the buying of Bibles to give to worthy people who are unable to purchase their own.

Mrs. Lloyd Redmond and son Glenn of Youngstown, O., have returned home after spending several days with Mrs. Fred Kelly, Shaw street.

H. Clare Stockman, assistant chief of the fire department, is confined to his home by an attack of the shingles. He is suffering from a rather severe attack of this disease and it will probably be several days at the very least before he can return to duty.

Mrs. Cyrus C. Horner of East street, is today in Beaver Falls, Pa., attending the funeral of her cousin, Walter Foster, aged 55, which was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the late residence. He was a widely known employe of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wallace, McClelland avenue, announce the birth of a daughter, March 19, who has been named Eleanor Jane.

It is estimated that if farmers never had been relieved at all, they would owe 37 per cent less.

Relieving Women's Hygiene
Of its worries—
Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

BECAUSE old hygienic ways are on the wane, women active in business and society have few hygienic worries these days. Hazardous old ways are being supplanted by a new way called Kotex.

✓ You discard Kotex just like a sheet of tissue. No laundry, no embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, one now wears sheerest frocks and gowns without the slightest fear of embarrassment.

Also deodorizes thoroughly, thus ending all danger of offending.

Doctors and nurses widely urge Kotex. Women everywhere employ it.

You can obtain it at any store simply by saying "KOTEX." Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine, for only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

BEHAVIOR AND MARRIAGE

WISELY and profoundly, a noted psychologist announces:

"The mystery of marriage has been broken down. We must have a new kind of ethics, based on a scientific study of human behavior, as a way to more simple marital relations."

Uttered wisely and profoundly, yes, but what does it mean? Certainly not that the ways into and out of matrimony should be further simplified. If either is to be made much easier, the accurate description will not be marriage but temporary association.

It is a very old-fashioned view, and probably easily refuted in this day by eminent phychologists and sociologists, but there is something to be said for the theory that what is needed is not so much study of human behavior, for the purpose of fitting marriage to it, as study of marriage for the purpose of fitting human behavior to it.

It is not a light thing for a man and a woman to give themselves to each other and it is still less a light thing for them to bring children into the world. Those who assume the responsibility should be willing to apply a little sandpaper to their habits and conduct that they may fit well into their new position in life.

Love usually comes into being as a wild flower. Unless those who find the treasure care enough to tend and nurture and domesticate it, its life will be the brief one of most wild things. Properly cherished, it may acquire hues of deep and rare beauty never found in the wild state. And after all the "rights" one surrenders at the portals of matrimony are more precious in the dispossession than in the possession.

CANADA WANTS A PLACE ON THE AIR

THE difficulties of Canada's radio broadcasting enterprises have been quite overlooked in the greater chaos of clashing competition for a "place on the air" in this country. A number of Canadian stations are within a short distance of the international border and of very powerful American stations, sometimes grouped by the dozen.

Theoretically, Canadians have a perfect right to utilize all the wave lengths within the usual range of their radio receiving sets. Actually they are in vassalage to the greater numbers and the greater power of broadcasters in the United States.

That will explain the visit of a Canadian official committee to Washington to confer with the members of the new Federal Radio Commission over the problem of wave length allotments. Canadians now have six of the ninety-five available on this continent. It is questionable whether most Canadian radio fans get much enjoyment out of their local concerts because of the literally howling mob of American competitors crowding for space on either side of the dial point.

Those six wave lengths are allotted under a gentlemen's agreement. It is said that one is almost useless because of close and powerful competition. The rest are said to be "pirated" with great regularity. Now the Canadians are going to ask for a formal allotment of twelve of the available wave lengths.

We certainly owe our neighbor reciprocity and fair treatment in this matter suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. She has scrupulously observed her agreement to limit radio activities north of the border to the six wave lengths assigned by informal arrangement.

It would be pleasant to record that our broadcasters in this country had been likewise controlled, but that is not the case. The present ratio of programme broadcasters is eighty-two in Canada and 733 in the United States, or about one to nine.

In the same proportion Canada would seem entitled to at least ten wave lengths. At the same time, any increase in the Canadian allotments would correspondingly reduce the number available for American broadcasters when strict Federal regulation becomes effective.

Our new Radio Commission has a tremendous problem on its hands.

Enthusiasm is something that begins to ooze away after the third installment has been paid.

Hope isn't always beneficient. That's what encourages the making of more and more laws.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

They were to be married shortly and now they were sitting in the study, meditating on the blissfulness of futurity.

"Percival", said the young lady, suddenly, "every morn you send me costly violets, don't you?"

"Io do", responded the ever faithful, "let the cost be what it may."

"You darling!" A long pause for osculatory operations. "But I should like to suggest", murmured the sweet young thing, "that some morning you might send up a pound of mutton chops or a couple of best loaves. It wouldn't cost you half as much, but it would make a splendid hit with the old folks in these times."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:15. Sun rises tomorrow 5:58.

Girls have a habit of trying a dozen or so engagement rings before they finally make a selection.

It is our opinion that if a man has lived his life in such a manner that he is not afraid to die he has accomplished quite a lot.

Isn't it too bad that Columbus didn't wait until these modern times to discover America then he could have made a fortune in pictures out in Hollywood.

An Ohio man claims his wife did not want to live with him and left him because she did not want to live in a coal mining town and went to Pittsburgh to live. She didn't have any objection to a dirty city anyhow.

Yes, adoniram, the laws against murder and burglary are violated the same as the bone-dry law, but there's this difference: There is no large and reputable element opposed to the law against murder and burglary.

The best test of sportmanship is to help Willie with his arthmetic without taking advantage of your superior strength.

A Philadelphia man shot his wife because she played so poorly in a card game. We know some birds who take a game of cards so seriously we would not play with them if we could play cards, for fear they would murder us. Ever see the faces of some card players as they go after a prize. Some faces!

Oddity about old timers is that in winter they remember distinctly it was colder, but always in summer it is "hotter than was ever known before."

The man who lives his life so that some people will be sorry when he dies has also accomplished more than most men accomplish.

A Los Angeles taxi driver turned in a set of false teeth found in his cab. Pavements on some Los Angeles streets probably make passengers glad that their real teeth are solidly anchored.

Just now there are a lot of people in the United States who would rather be a live sinner in this country than a dead missionary in China. It looks bad for all in China now including those who are not fighting.

A message from Seattle says: "Women will quit bobbing their hair when men grow beards." Doubtful. No man fashion ever had any influence on the fair sex except cigarets.

A man actor in the movies may be a Greek god, but he has to know how to "act." This insures a superior contingent of actors in the masculine world.

Every day some one tries to spoil it all by chirping "You will have lots of winter yet." Most of us think that but we do not like to be reminded of it all the time.

We read of a city that is to hold a reunion of its bald heads. Old Dome Week, eh?

Women tourists wearing knickers are turned back at the border in Matamoros, Mexico. Those Mexicans may be broad on the subject of banditry and allied deviltry, but their other morals are unimpeachable.

A distracted New Jerseyman asks "What is good for mosquitoes?" Frankly, we do not know, and what is more, we have never interested ourselves in the subject. Why pamper them, anyway?

Two hundred men have been arrested in Mercer county for letting their dogs run at large without licenses. Dog owners would save themselves a lot of criticism and annoyance if they would obey the laws governing dogs. Very few do until they have to and we can get along nicely without dogs running around.

LIFE

We of today are living links
Between the future and the past;
The shifting scenes of life move on
And things that now are can not last.
We're bearers of a flickering light
Of many colors that adorn
The spaces between death's darkness and
The darkness out of which we're born.

We're transient beings in the space
That lies within life's conscious groove;
From birth to death, what e'er we do,
'Twixt two eternities we move.
If past achievements fill the mind,
Posterity we fail to see—
Our light is turned toward the past,
Ancestor worshippers are we.

Our greatest duty in this life
Is service for those yet to be,
Through careful living, pure and clean,
Transmitting virtues wholesome, free,
To body, mind and spirit of
Our offspring, hastening the time
When weaklings there may be no more
And human life shall be sublime.

The greatest trouble the girls have is to let you see their garters while they are pretending they're trying to keep you from seeing them.

The wise cracks a fellow makes always seem to carry weight after he is dead.

GOING TO EUROPE BY AIR

In ten years, they tell us, thousands of travelers who go to Europe will go there by air. Truly enough, if we were going to Europe, we'd rather fall on a nice billowing billow 30 feet high than an indurated piece of the United States 30 feet high.

The presumption is that one will not fall at all; and we like to stick to that presumption, just as we cling to the hope of our immunity when a case of small pox is removed from the railroad car in which we are traveling or our faith that it is not OUR hotel that will burn down.

Happy days these, when we no longer ask for a hotel room " not above the third floor, please," as we confess to when we first began to travel. Even then the hotel clerks were trained not to smile at the vagaries of their guests.

Going to Europe by airship at an incredible speed will undoubtedly become popular if there are no serious catastrophes, and after 100,000,000 people have gone and returned safely, we may try it. It was fifty years after railroads were invented that we first rode on one.

—It was a simple-looking chap of the species flirtatious who pulled up with a short turn when he found the woman he had followed in admiration for two blocks was his own wife in a new gown.

—If it a pertinent question, we would like to ask that correspondent who inveighs so bitterly against the "slaughter of sentient and sensitive animals to provide food and clothing," whether he ever wears leather shoes, a leather belt, carries a leather grip, uses leather straps, or what have you?

A contributor writes the Hints and Dints man about a secondhand man, an accquaintance, who believes in antiques. Recently he purchased an old sofa from a home where seven daughters had been reared and in turn had entertained company the passing years. Taking the old hulk apart for repairs, he found 47 hair-pins, three mustache combs, 19 suspender buttons, 13 needles, 8 cigarets, 5 photographs, 217 pins, some grains of coffee, a few cloves, 27 vest buttons, 5 pocket knives, 15 poker chips, a vial of headache tablets, 34 cuds of chewing gum, 9 toothpicks and 4 buttonhooks.

It is claimed that enormous yaks have been discovered in Tibet with skulls that shed bullets. Why not get some of those skulls and rent them to Chicago men when they have occasion to walk about the streets in bandit territory.

Man still has one advantage he can reach for his hat when the baby howls.

Nine doctors are sitting at the bedside of King Alfonso of Spain. He might fool them all and get well in spite of them.

Cancellation of war debts is urged principally by those who have little or no money of their own and who can't see the war-like attitudes of the countries seeking cancellation for looking. If France and England would really disarm and try to be peace-loving nations they might put up a better argument for exoneration from debts. France has taken on herself all the militarism of Germany—which caused the war—and unless curbed will be the spark that causes another world conflagration. And in our modestly expressed opinion she ought to pay every cent she owes on the last war.

We are interested in Solicitor White's case against the driver of the auto who splashed his nice pretty suit. If he wins we will get the numbers of taxi and truck drivers who splash us at various times and try through them to keep our wardrobe new and clean.

Well, a man has finally won a case against a woman in court, and it was Daddy Browning. The worst that can be said of him is that he was silly-some will use a stronger and more common term—but there was nothing vicious or mean about him. Peaches wasn't a bit wise or she would have worked him rather than antagonizing him by having the mother-in-law around. A few more decisions like that will make matrimony safe for men who have money.

The President has a sore wrist from too much handshaking. If a woman ever becomes chief executive, she'll probably suffer from sprained lips.

Conneaut lake is said to be altogether clear of ice this winter, much earlier than usual. This is a good sign and those who are interested in early spring bathing can take their plunge without worrying about hitting an iceberg.

In China the expected has happened, and that is the most unexpected thing that could happen. Cantonese have fought their way into Shanghai, foreigners occupy a thin strip of territory, with a big fleet of American and European warships in the harbor, ready to do what they can. Many foreign troops have landed on Chinese soil, including 1,500 troops from this country. The situation does not look cheerful.

"China for the Chinese" is the Canton program. If Europeans are careless or too aggressive, some of them will be hurt.

French troops have had troubles with victorious Cantonese. A British officer and three men were wounded by snipers and the British opened fire with machine guns, threatening to "wipe out the entire neighborhood." That is a big order. The "entire neighborhood" contains 400,000,000 people.

Cyrus H. K. Curtis' newspaper discovers a "great automobile price war" based on Henry Ford's $200 cut in the price of the Lincoln car, open model. Not much of a "price war" when you remember that the Lincoln price was recently raised $250 when the new "six-wheel brake" was added to the equipment.

The news evidently does not disturb investors in General Motors stock.

omebody bought 107,000 shares Monday, closing price $179. Earlier in the year it was $145.50.

Governor Ritchie of Maryland tells Louis Seibold the Democratic party should stop squabbling and select some issue for which to fight. Two Democratic candidates at least would fight for a change in the prohibition law. They will find it hard sledding.

Fighting "issues" seem scarce. It is hard to take the minds of Americans from prosperity which happens to bear a Republican brand. The Republican elephant is now the national Santa Claus, and its "fighting" campaign issue will be "if you like me, keep me."

In many tragedies whiskey plays a part. A man is found murdered twisted around his neck. A man did it to oblige the wife, younger than the dead husband. Detectives found a glassful of whiskey on the table beside the bed.

Robles, Spanish bullfighter, killed bulls for two months in Mexico, earned $65,000. He spent a few hours in gambling institutions at Tia Juana across the California border, and Tit Juana gentlemen have his $65,000.

"Bullfighters never have any money," says a friend of Robles, "they are all gamblers." That fact keeps them working, killing bulls.

Many Americans are not so different. They also rarely have money, or don't have it long. They buy real estate they have never seen, stock in wells without oil, gold mines without gold. That keeps them working.

Foolishness is perhaps humanity's greatest asset.

If those that save money, all lived on it in idleness, instead of losing it to sharpers, there might be too much idleness in the country.

For one thing we should be grateful. Our cousins in Europe will teach us to fly, whether we want to learn or not. The British expect to send to New York next fall an airship "as big as the Mauretania," with room for 100 passengers. That will be one good lesson.

The courageous Italian flier, Pinedo, having flown across the Atlantic, is on his way skimming over strange Brazil, along the surface of the Amazon. We learn something from him.

In Day's News

Oscar T. Crosby, who is fitting out an expedition to Africa to study the life and habits of primitive tribes in jungles never before penetrated by white men, has had a career rather remarkable for its widely varied activities. Born in Louisiana in 1861, Mr. Crosby graduated from West Point at the age of 21, resigning from the military service five years later to enter private business. Later he became assistant secretary of the United States Treasury and during the war he served as director of the United States relief commission in Belgium. During the past 25 years he has found time to explore considerable portions of Abyssinia and the Soudan, has traveled over little known parts of Turkestan and Tibet, and in 1915 led an exploring expedition to Borneo.

PUZZLES

A book called "Real Puzzles" has come to my desk. In it there are some 150 puzzles included. Those who like puzzledom will be entertained and many who do not like puzzles will be started on their downward path.

Solving a puzzle introduces us to the mental process which discovers many useful things. The problems of this life are not solved like questions in arithmetic, but are usually solved by the process known as "fumbling and experiment."

To estimate the answers to a question by computing the average of probabilities is the way which is followed by those who find out recondite matters.

There are puzzles in the Bible. There is a tradition that Adam proposed curious riddles to his two sons, but it is not substantiated.

We know, however, that Samson besides being the strongest man was a good deal of a puzzler.

When the Queen of Sheba came to visit Solomon she "proved him with hard questions" and it is recorded that Solomon and Hiram, King of Tyre, had a contest in riddles.

The hieroglyphics of the ancient Phoenicians and Egyptians were a sort of rebus, in fact the alphabet started with rebus symbols.

Readers of history are all familiar with the puzzle of the sphinx which was: "What is that animal which in the morning goes forth on four feet, at noon on two and in the evening on three?"

The answer is: "Man."

Edgar A. Poe wrote a most charming and intriguing story called "The Gold Bug" which turned on the solution of a cryptogram and cryptograms are now the favorite amusement of puzzlers.

Some people despise the puzzler's art, but there is a National Puzzlers League in the United States which directs attention to the educational benefit of it. It publishes a paper called The Enigma, which is a good test of one's general information and power of weighing probabilities.

After all, we know very little in this world exactly and most of our opinions are formed by the preponderance of probabilities.

The teacher explained, "Quite a number of plants and flowers have the prefix dog. There's the dog-rose and the dog-violet. Can any member of the class name another?" There was silence, then a happy look illumined the face of a boy in the back of the room. "Please, ma'am", he called out, "there's the collieflowers."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HE PUT IT OVER

Before the War, American advertisers, nationally considered, did not spend any great amount of money. As a class, they were limited mainly to patent medicines, toilet articles, soaps, kodaks, automobiles and automobile tires. A magazine could be bought and all of the stories published therein could be read from start to finish without the reader having to "turn to Page 263 et sec" to find most of the story.

If the War changed anything, it changed the viewpoint of American business with regard to advertising.—War and the Income Tax. I don't know who it was, but it was some genius who discovered a great talking point for the advertising agencies, and for the publishers of America. The income tax is a mild thing today, compared to what it was in war time and immediately thereafter. The base, however, of the tax has always been the net profit. To determine net profits all legitimate expenses of the business have been always deductible from the gross income. To this genius advertising was a legitimate expense, and he pounced upon it. To the prospective advertiser, the corporation conducting a great business which might be expanded, he said, "Why pay all this money to the Government when you could pay some of it to the publishers and the advertising agencies. It will practically cost you nothing to advertise. Try it out now. You have always been skeptical about the value of advertising. This is the time for you to make a large appropriation each year, and spend it in the development of your business."

He put it over and it was not long until the number of advertising agents in America, talking the same way, were legion. The American manufacturer, the American wholesaler, the American retailer, discovered that he had never spent a dollar so advantageously as he did with the magazines and newspapers of the Nation. The advertiser now has been educated to such a degree that I noticed in the edition of the Saturday Evening Post for March 12th,—note the date, March 12th,—the following advertisement: "On Friday, the 11th of March, the Paladin will be shown by the best hatters everywhere".—timed one day ahead of the date of publication.

The genius of which I spoke hit the tenderest chord of American life. He told the advertiser that he could get something for nothing. The advertiser believed him, and believe it or not, he was nearly right. For the money spent in right advertising pays more than any money spent in this world.

ESTATE

My dream of joy lies not in me,
But in the man that is to be,
And in the womar, fond and fair
Who now ties ribbons in her hair
And races up and down the floor
As all the little girls of four.

I've had my bout with wealth and fame,
Not much is left for me to claim,
What is to be my future, lies
Behind his wide and eager eyes,
And in her little hands which seek
At night to stroke my grizzled cheek.

A boy and girl hold my estate
To make it poor or make it great.
All joy, all pride which are to be
Through them alone must come to me.
The man and woman time shall know
My life can crown or overthrow.

My triumph counts for little now.
What lies behind that rounded brow
Of boyhood, and what is in store
Today are more important far
Than all my self-planned battles are.

POEMS HOVE — BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Love Is a Terrible Thing," by Grace Fallow Norton.

This poem originally appeared in the old Century Magazine. Yet there are still people who declare that no poetry finds its way into our periodicals. This in the face of the fact that most of the volumes issued by publishing houses contain only those poems which first came out in popular magazines. Masefield, Frost, Masters, Noyes, Amy Lowell, Sara Tessdale, Theodosia Garrison—all these poets, and many more, of course, continue to print their output first in our weeklies and monthlies. I feel certain that Mrs. Norton's lines will endure. They are as good as anything anyone has done recently; and they are beautifully restrained, though one feels the deep and abiding emotion behind them.

I went out to the farthest meadow,
I lay down in the deepest shadow;

And I said unto the earth, "Hold me,"
And unto the night, "O enfold me,"
And unto the wind petulantly
I cried, "You know not, for you are free!"

And I begged the little leaves to lean
Low and together for a safe screen;

Then to the stars I told my tale:
"That is my home-light, there in the vale,

"And O, I know that I shall return,
But let me lie first mid the unfeeling fern.

"For there is a flame that has blown too near,
And there is a name that has grown too dear,
And there is a fear . . ."

And to the still hills and cool earth and far sky I made moan,
"The heart in my bosom is not my own!

"O would I were free as the wind on the wing;
Love is a terrible thing!"

T. W. Phillips Company Gets Two Gas Wells

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., March 23.—The attention of Western Pennsylvania gas and oil well operators today was centered on the Walston fields, near here, where two gas wells, each reporting an open flow of more than 5,000,000 feet, were brought in yesterday.

The T. W. Phillips Gas and Oil company brought in a well shortly after noon which it was reported showed an open flow of 6,500,000 feet, and a short time later the Kurtz interests, representing Punxsutawney capital, brought in a second well, within six hundred feet of the Phillips strike. The Kurtz well showed an open flow of 5,000,000 feet or better, the report said.

The Walston fields, a comparatively new district, now have eight wells, seven of them producing. Five of this number show an open flow of better than a million feet each.

Gas men here hailed with enthusiasm the report that the strikes were made in deep sand, each going down 2,700 feet. This indicates, they said, that both strikes are good for huge production, there being small danger of the wells going dry due to shallow sands.

Prohibition Party Opens Conference At Pittsburgh

Dr. D. Leigh Colvin Of New York City In Charge Of Meeting

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 23.—National politics into which the "liquor interests" have entwined a complicated network of intrigue stands in the way of adequate enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

This today was the concensus of opinion of dry leaders here to attend the three-day conference of the national prohibition party. Led by Dr. D. Leigh Colvin of New York, a program of speakers flayed the "interests" which, they charged have conspired to defeat the prohibitory legislation passed by congress.

With the balance of blame for laxity in prohibition enforcement laid at the door of politics, George A. Douglas, student secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association rose in defense of the college man. He characterized as "absurd propaganda" charges that drinking is rampant among students.

Approximately 100 persons are in attendance at the conference, more than half of the number being women.

Tired Of School 10 Year Old Boy Visits This City

Philip Diehl, aged 10 years, became tired of school at Butler this week and started out to see the world. He started walking from Butler, but got a ride part way to New Castle. He then started to walk to Sharon to the home of his brother, C. W. Diehl, where he arrived after being given another "lift" in an auto. Meanwhile his parents in Butler were frantic over his disappearance until they received a phone message from their elder son in Sharon. Yesterday the boy's father went after him and took him back home. He told his father that he was tired of the way things were going in school and had decided to get away.

Penitence, Pardon And Peace

A LENTEN CANTATA BY MAUNDER

Tonight At 8 O'clock, Trinity Episcopal Church, Corner Mill And Falls Streets Under Direction Of Prof. Paul Browne Patterson, Organist And Choir Master who has earned for himself not only local but national reputation as a conductor of choral organizations.

At various times, Prof. Patterson has been conductor of The Sandusky Choral Union of Sandusky, O. The Handel and Hayden Society of Sharon, Pa., The Tuesday Musical Choral Society of Youngstown, O., and the Handel Oratorio Society of New Castle, Pa. All these organizations under Prof. Patterson reached an enviable place among nationally known choral organizations. The New Castle Handel Oratorio Society numbering 350 voices, through its great musical festivals, was rated by New York booking firms one of the twelve best societies in the United States. Remodeling of the old Coliseum, which resulted in a loss of seating capacity made it necessary to temporarily abandon the festivals until large auditoriums could be built. New Castle now possesses the proper equipment and it is not too much to expect in the near future a choral organization far surpassing anything yet attempted.

Referring to the cantata to be given tonight at Trinity church, stress should be give to the beauty of the music, its devotional character, and the ability and sincerity of the 40 singers who will interpret the work.

Cross, Feverish Child is Bilious or Constipated

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup", that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative", and in a few hours, all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup", which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, sold by "California Fig Syrup Company".

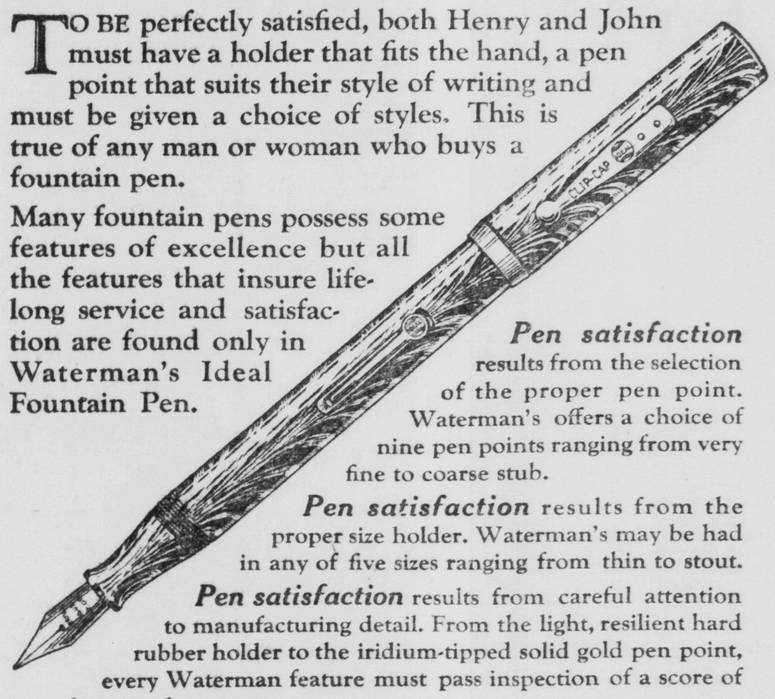
The Pen that suits Henry Ford may not suit John Willys

The pen that suits Henry Smith may not suit John Brown

TO BE perfectly satisfied, both Henry and John must have a holder that fits the hand, a pen point that suits their style of writing and must be given a choice of styles. This is true of any man or woman who buys a fountain pen.

Many fountain pens possess some features of excellence but all the features that insure life-long service and satisfaction are found only in Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen.



Pen satisfaction results from the selection of the proper pen point. Waterman's offers a choice of nine pen points ranging from very fine to coarse stub.

Pen satisfaction results from the proper size holder. Waterman's may be had in any of five sizes ranging from thin to stout.

Pen satisfaction results from careful attention to manufacturing detail. From the light, resilient hard rubber holder to the iridium-tipped solid gold pen point, every Waterman feature must pass inspection of a score of lynx-eyed censors.

The pen illustrated is made of "Ripple" genuine stainless Rubber. It is No. 01855 and will suit most hands for size. It sells for $6.50. Smaller sizes cost $4.00 and $5.00. Larger sizes $7.50 and $9.50.

Guaranteed since 1883 and until 1983.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S. S. S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Telephones Replaces Telegraphs On Penna.

MERCER, Pa., March 23.—The installation of telephones in all the block stations on the branch of the Pennsylvania railroad on which this place is located and the stringing of six wires from New Castle to Stoneboro which marks the terminal points of the line, has been completed.

It is said that the dispatching of trains will be handled by telephone after the date of April 1 rather than telegraph.

The work on this branch completes this type of installation all over the division, it is stated. Where for years a block station was located at Mercer a reduction in the number resulting in cutting out the local unit. The change in medium of train dispatching on this branch marks a break in a regular routine of telegraphing covering a 40-year period.

WEAK WOMEN SHOULD READ THIS

Men do not understand why women are so subject to occasional weakness and often real illnesses. The housewife often forces herself to go through a day's work when if her husband felt as miserable he would be in bed with the doctor at his bedside.

Much of this suffering is entirely unnecessary. A great deal of it is due to catarrh in the system—quite often unknown. The same mucous membrane as exists in the nose and throat lines all other cavities of the body and is subject to the same catarrh, with all its weakening effect.

Women Have Approved

The manufacturers of World's Tonic have many grateful letters from women who through the use of this remarkable medicine have been relieved of this weakness, and have gained strength to attend to their duties cheerfully and well.

World's Tonic has done this because it conquers catarrh, strengthens all bodily functions and restores vigor and strength.

Women who suffer will find it a great friend. It can be obtained for $1.00 a bottle of McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., Paisley's, Smith's and other good druggists. (224)

Election Reform Moved Two Years Ahead In State

Resolution Calls For Commission To Investigate Election Laws

TWO OF GOVERNOR'S BILLS LIKELY TO PASS

Commission Would Make Report To Session In 1929 Under Resolution

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 23.—Major election law reform today has been moved at least two years into the future.

The resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator Norman L. Bonbrake, Franklin county, calling for an election law commission has in a large measure replaced not only the series of reform measures sponsored by Senator Frank J. Harris, Allegheny, but the administration bill as well.

One of the administration bills is on the calendar for a final vote today. It was reported from committee last night without any weakening amendments under its provisions a ballot may be opened upon the petition of three qualified electors and without the specifying of particular fraud on error.

To Make Decisions

The senate elections committee which went into session at 9:30 today will decide the fate of the other three administration bills so far as that body is concerned. The action of the House on the similar bills there is problematical, but if reported out and passed, it is conceded they would have little chance in the senate if the upper house already had decided adversely or on such questions.

The Bonbrake resolution was introduced, W. L. Mellon, the state chairman said, in full accord with Governor John S. Fisher. Passage of at least two of the four administration measures is believed possible. The Harris measures introduced early in the session will have little chance of passage under present conditions, it is believed.

Under the resolution, a commission of nine persons would be created who would make a study of the election laws not only of Pennsylvania but of other states as well. Twenty thousand dollars is provided for its work.

The commission would report and make its recommendations in 1929. So far the second legislature of any governor's term has shown but little leaning to his demand. Real election reform at that time will depend largely as now upon attitude of the Republican party.

In addition to the one administration election bill the senate will vote finally on a score of other bills today.

The session began at 10 o'clock.

Dogs Are Menace Running At Large

Local Game Protector Issues Statement Concerning Situation

Dogs running at large are a menace in Lawrence County, according to District Game Protector, Frank N. Johnston. In a statement today, he says:

"Dogs which are left run at large constitute a nuisance to every citizen. One of the greatest enemies of our samll game and beneficial birds is the dog which is permitted to roam the fields and forest during the spring and summer months, during the breeding and nesting season of small birds and animals.

"The Game Commission, of Pennsylvania, pays out great sums of the sportsmen's money annually for the purchase of game birds and animals for re-stocking our fields and forest, in order that those who pay a license to hunt may enjoy better hunting.

Large numbers of these birds and animals purchased at a very high price are liberated in our woods and fields only to be destroyed by worthless hungry dogs. Dogs are not only a menace to wild life, but also a nuisance to the farmer and even to the small backyard gardner. The Department of Agriculture is also desirous of securing better observance of the dog laws, and all State Officers have been instructed to enforce the law to the letter. Many dogs have already been disposed of and the owners compelled to pay fines, and the campaign will continue until we secure better observance of the dog law.

Help us to correct these conditions and secure better observance of this important law, which will greatly benefit every citizen.

Signed, Frank N. Johnston,
District Game Protector.

MILKMEN MUST PAY $61,971 FOR TRYING TO FORCE UNION HELP

BOSTON, March 23.—Local No. 380, Milk Drivers and Creamery Workers' Union, must pay $61,971.44 because it attempted last summer to force milk companies to employ only union members. This amount of damages was awarded three firms today by Judge Morton of superior court. His decision recalls the similar fining of a union in the famous Danbury Hatters' case.

Judge Morton, in affirming the report of John M. Maloney, master, refused only to approve damage costs for the hire of police and detectives to guard the companies' prosperity and personnel.

Athlete has simple method of keeping in perfect form

Athletes and trainers know how painful and disabling muscle-lameness can be. And they, more than almost anyone else, can tell you the best way to overcome it.

"In my training work as an athlete," writes Frank B. Conover, of 175 South St., Jersey City, N. J., "I have used Sloan's Liniment for the past five years and found it most effective for soreness caused by vigorous exercise. Also an incomparable remedy for stiff neck."

It is marvelous how ache and stiffness in lame muscles yield to the magic of Sloan's. Just a little patted on lightly and healing new blood tingles through the hurt place.

Away go "fatigue-poisons." Sore muscles limber up and stop aching. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

99 Polish Rabbis In Divorce Tangle

(International News Service)

WARSAW, Mar. 23—Ninety-nine Polish rabbis have been indicted for complication in a divorce action which proved under the civil law to be illegal. The rabbis affixed their signature to a divorce document which is demanded before a member of a Jewish synagogue can be divorced in the sight of his church.

Isaac Lowensky who brought the action against his wife, left Poland several years ago and made a considerable fortune in Switzerland. Then he decided to divorce his wife and obtained permission from a rabbi there to begin proceedings. This rabbi signed the divorce petition and forwarded it to Poland for the other ninety-nine signatures, for a hundred rabbis must assent. The husband charged that his wife was of unsound mind.

When the wife heard she was divorced she went to a lawyer and then in court proved the charges false. Now the action has been taken against the Polish rabbis who are liable for heavy fines under the Polish law.

It's a matter of viewpoint, but lots of people seeing the kid's first tooth, wouldn't take a billion for it.

Fourteen Hundred Subscribe To Fund For Cathedral Here

Over Half Of Sum Pledged Is Paid In Cash, It Is Discovered

Subscribers To Receive Acknowledgements Within Next Few Days

Within a week or ten days the 1400 subscribers to the Scottish Rite cathedral completion fund will receive acknowledgement of their subscription, E. J. Kinter, auditor of the fund and member of the committee, announces.

On account of the many subscriptions it will take several days to make a complete audit and prepare the replies to the subscribers. Mr. Kinter says that there has been a corps of four clerks working day and night for five days and that they will be kept busy for some time.

Mr. Kinter says that some interesting incidents were found in the receiving of many subscriptions. One of the cash subscriptions was a $500 gold certificate dated 1888 and was as new as the day it was printed. It had apparently been folded and laid away as a sort of keepsake which the subscriber was persuaded to give as a tribute to this great cause.

Almost half of the total subscription asked for came in cash subscriptions, said Mr. Kinter. Some were paid in Liberty bonds and Liberty bond coupons, some were gold certificates and notes of quite old dates. Most of the subscriptions were of the $100 denomination but it was surprising how many were made for $1000, $2000 and $3000 or more.

It is certainly a good advertisement for New Castle as to how the fund was so highly oversubscribed. And the enthusiasm of everyone who took part in it has shown what can be done when a good cause is put before the people.

Here's Real Relief From the Torturing Pains of Neuritis

Men and Women Everywhere Seldom Fail to Get Quick Relief from Pain and Suffering.

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to some good druggist and get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished those persisting nerve racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, Gouty conditions and what is known as Rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven wonderfully successful in all forms of Neuritis and Sciatic Nerve Pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dope of any kind—it doesn't. Such things are only makeshifts and can at the best give only partial relief.

Be sure you've got Neuritis and then get Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 McKee's Kut Rate Store; Ellwood City agent, F. L. Schweitzer, sells lots of it.

Lake Navigation Will Open Early

May Be Open Next Week—Earliest Of Many Years Say Boatmen

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Mar. 23.—Navigation on the Great Lakes will open earlier this season, than for many years past, according to the belief of vesselmen here.

Lake Erie navigation will oper early next week, it was predicted with possible exception of the port of Buffalo.

A fleet of four hundred vessels comprising the Lake Erie fleet, is ready for the opening, many of the ships being loaded with coal destined for the upper lakes.

Because of the unusually light ice-fields in Lake Superior, navigation to the upper lake regions will be possible much earlier than last year, it was reported.

Coal shipments are already pouring into Cleveland, in anticipation of the opening of navigation, and the same is true of Toledo and other ports. One of the biggest years in the shipping of coal and ore are foreseen, owing to the heavy demands for coal from the northwest, coupled with a predicted "big year" in the steel industry.

The interview with President Coolidge was arranged through Senator George Wharton Pepper by Professor W. H. Coleman of the department of English. While in Washington the debaters were dinner guests of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Methodist board of public morals.

CLOUDY TEETH?

This New Way Does Wonders Quickly. Noted Dentists Urge It. Accept 10-Day Tube Free!

TEETH seldom are naturally "off color." Most often they're merely coated with a film that forms on teeth and which absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. By clearing it off, one's whole appearance may be changed.

Old-type dentifrices failed to remove that film successfully. That's why brushing has failed you. Now leading dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice, Pepsodent, for this purpose.

Results are quick and surprising. Film coats go. Teeth whiten; sparkle like jewels. Bacteria that thrive in film are combated; tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea thus scientifically fought.

All druggists sell Pepsodent in large tubes. Or send coupon for test free. Do this now.

Phillips Refuses To Take Place On Game Commission

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 23.—Governor John S. Fisher today announced that John M. Phillips, Pittsburgh, has declined to serve as a member of the State Game commission. The governor also said that he favors the bill of Senator Quigley, Clinton, which would increase the hunter's license fee to $2.25.

Phillips was a member of the Game Commission during three administrations. He refused to sign the form used by the Pinchot administration which demanded in addition to the usual pledges that the signer support the 18th amendment. The form was replaced by the Fisher administration. The governor expressed his regret at Phillips' refusal to become a member of the commission.

Phillips is backing the Quigley bill and he explained its provisions to the governor. It is estimated that it would raise an additional $500,000 which would be used jointly by the Game Commission and the department of Forests and Waters.

USE CARE IN THIS

Fertilizers of any kind should be added only in small quantities and only to healthy growing plants, says Nature Magazine. More harm is done to house plants by overfertilization than any other single agency. Fertilizer is a plant food and, as such, is very rich. It must not, therefore, begiven in large quantities nor to sickly plants.

PETRIFIED WOOD

Petrification of wood is the result of water carrying in solution certain chemicals, especially silica or quartz. The wood becomes saturated with the water and each particle of wood is replaced, atom for atom, by the silica. We speak of a tree turning to stone becoming petrified. The wood does not "turn to" stone, but is replaced by "stone."

Net Is Closing About Suspects

Police Believe Remainder Of Payroll Bandits Will Be Captured

FIND ANOTHER RIFLE NEAR SCENE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 23.—With the finding of another rifle near the scene of the $104,000 payroll bombing and robbery near here, and word from Detroit that John Geisler, Allegheny county detective plans to extend his search for members of the bandit gang to a city in northern Michigan, the net slowly closed about all of the suspects in the case today.

Using the gun found near the scene of the robbery as a clue, county detectives returned to the farm of Joseph Weckoski near Charleroi where, with additional evidence found there they said they pieced together a theory that the Weckoski farm was used as a "receiving place" for stolen cars. Weckoski previously admitted bandit gangs made the farm their rendezvous.

Detective headquarters here, meanwhile, were notified by Geisler in Detroit that he had an important clue which would take him into northern Michigan in search of additional members of the bandit gang.

Paul Jaworski, confessed member of the gang, is being questioned again in the hope of uncovering other crimes in which he was involved. He has already confessed several in this district.

SON TAKES CAR OUT, DAD THINKS STOLEN, ARREST SURPRISES

KANE, Pa., March 23. —Police here were notified yesterday by a citizen of Johnsonburg that his car had been stolen, and that the thieves had driven in the direction of Kane. Ten minutes later, the car was found by Policeman Cole, and two young men arrested.

When the Johnsonburg citizen arrived he was surprised to find that one of the men under arrest was his own son, who had taken the automobile without his parent's permission. The case was settled amicably and father and son, with the third man, departed for Johnsonburg.

Resume Hearing At Pittsburgh About April 19

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Mar. 23. — With the first session of its investigation into the general freight rate structure on iron and steel in the Northeastern states at an end here, the Interstate Commerce Commission today laid plans to resume its hearings at Columbus, beginning April 19.

The investigation, which consumed ten days here, is the first inquiry by the commission into complaints against alleged discriminatory rates on steel products moving out of the district between the Atlantic seaboard and the Mississippi river north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers. Representatives of practically every large steel corporation in the district made plans for downward revision of rates at the hearing here.

Johnson R. Campbell, who conducted the hearing here in behalf of the Commission, announced a recess in testimony until the Columbus session next month.

OFFICIALS TO CHANGE ROUTE

City And P.-O. Officials To Confer On New Traffic Arrangement

It is reported that city officials and Pennsylvania-Ohio railway officials will confer soon relative to a new routing of local and interurban cars at the Diamond. It is said that the plan most favored would result in cars looping the west portion of the Diamond.

Youngstown cars would make a left turn in the center of the Diamond, take on and discharge passengers, at the point where Mahoningtown auto busses terminal. A former plan would have had the cars round the east portion of the Diamond.

Four Team Tie In Six Day Bike Race

(International News Service)
CHCAGO, March 23.—Spectators today milled about the rim of the wooden saucer waiting for the jam or dash that would break the four cornered tie existing for first position in Chicago's fifteenth international six day bike spin.

The American team, composed of Charley Winter and Freddie Spencer had been riding away the night in a tie with Franco Georgetti and Carl Stockholm, the American-Italian combination, until Kockler and Merkner, the Chicago team lapped the first and crossed into the first sector with the leaders.

Pounding the pedals hard came the team that had trailed the Chicago pair during the entire race. Bill Heinsberg and Noran Hill. Hill on a signal from Heinsberg dipped into the lower saucer and was off before the leaders could bottle him. When he had reduced his speed to the pace-setting leaders he had lapped the field and the four team tie was on. Spencer has replaced Winter as individual high man.

NORMAL PEACH CROP EXPECTED

PORT CLINTON, Ohio, March 23. —Surveys of the fruit orchards of Ottawa county at this time indicate that there will be a normal crop of peaches.

The fruit buds have advanced during the last week and are showing considerable growth.

Some of the fruit growers on Catawba island are reporting good crops of buds; others say their trees have been affected by the winter weather.

In the west end of the county some of the growers report that the lower branches of the trees were damaged by the continued covering of snow on the ground but that the tops of the trees show an abundance of buds.

Danbury growers are divided in their opinion as to prospects for a big crop, but the general opinion is that there will be a normal crop of peaches as there must be a certain loss of fruit buds every year or the trees would be overloaded with fruit.

Measure To Be Given Consideration At Hearing This Afternoon

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 23.—Followers of horse racing in Pennsylvania will be given an opportunity this afternoon to present their plea for the establishment of tracks when the house judiciary general committee hold a public hearing here this afternoon.

The committee has the Baldi bill permitting horse racing under consideration and a hearing on the measure was arranged so that both opponents and proponents could be heard.

The bill provides for a racing commission of three members to be appointed by the governor. Racing for a stake, purse or reward would be permitted and wagering and betting by means of Pari-Mutual machines would be allowed.

The proposed commission would be allowed to arrange for horse races on 100 days each year, no one association being permitted to conduct races for more than thirty days each year.

Sowersby Elected To Penn Fraternity

Francis S. Sowersby, of New Castle, is among the students whose election to prominent fraternities at the University of Pennsylvania has just been announced, following the close of the annual "rushing season" at the University.

By agreement among the fraternities, the "rushing season" at Pennsylvania does not open until the second half of the University year and is limited to a certain period at the end of which all fraternities make public the lists of their new members simultaneously. Of the men in the Freshman Class this year, 597, or forty-six per cent, were elected to membership in various chapters.

Sowersby, whose home is at 412 Winter avenue, was elected to Phi Delta Theta. Before entering Pennsylvania he attended the New Castle High School where he was advertising manager of the school publication, head cheer leader, and was a member of the tennis team, school societies and plays. On the Pennsylvania campus Sowersby also takes an active part in tennis. He is now enrolled in the University's Wharton School of Finance and Commerce.

Now Senator Borah Becomes A 'Spokesman'—A Busy One, Too

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Before the summer's ended Senator William E. Borah's "spokesman" promises to have become as widely known a character in Washington fiction as the "presidential spokesman" himself.

Probably the country's too well acquainted with the "presidential spokesman" to need an introduction to him.

He was born of the rule that the president mustn't be quoted.

He frequently says something he wants repeated but it isn't etiquette to attribute it to him directly.

The "presidential spokesman" was invented to get around this difficulty. Everybody with a mite of experience knows that the "presidential spokesman" means the president.

Senator Borah's "spokesman" has only just appeared on the scene.

Borah is chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. It's a position which gives vast weight to his views concerning America's international policies.

By indorsing them he can greatly help the president. By opposing them he can gravely handicap him.

Much to the White House's annoyance, this latter is what Borah has pretty consistently done. Especially is he out of sympathy with the administration's course in Mexico and Nicaragua. Every time the state department made a move south of the Rio Grande, so long as congress was in session, the senator followed it up with a speech denouncing it as all wrong.

Government executives always are glad when congress adjourns. They were gladder than usual this time, for they figured it would put a stop to the worst of Borah's heckling.

True, he gave warning that he intended to keep on fighting, but nobody expected more from him than an occasional interview, an informal sort of thing, lacking in continuity, hard to time psychologically and without the punch of a regular speech or a "spokesman's" ponderous utterances.

Little did Washington realize the scheme the Idaho solon had up his sleeve.

He didn't go nome, as most other members of congress did. He stayed right here. Every day, from his headquarters in the senate office building, he's giving out an "official statement," through his "spokesman", meaning himself, just like the president.

That "spokesman" stunt was a stroke of real genius.

It exalts Borah. It puts him in the presidential class. It practically announces his White House candidacy, which Borah certainly doesn't mind a bit. In that sense it kills two birds with one stone.

At the same time it burlesques the "presidential spokesman," detracting very noticeably from the impressiveness of what the latter has to say. It's been taken for granted hitherto that a "spokesman" was the exclusive prerogative of a president. That idea's punctured now, with the utmost ease, and what's been punctured never appears at its best.

Borah wanted to take his foreign relations committee to Mexico and Nicaragua during the summer, to learn at first hand what conditions in that part of the world actually are like.

The administration forces in the senate squelched this plan, on the ground that it would simply be a trouble-making junket.

The suggestion's heard in high-up quarters today that it would have been a blamed sight better if the entire outfit had been permitted to go. Senator Shipstead's gone anyway. Instead of heading trouble off, administration leaders are hinting now that it looks to them as if the attempt to smother it had only resulted in spreading it around.

Pal Kansas Makes Good As Promoter

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 23.—Pal Kansas, or, as he signs his examination papers in the Westminster classroom, Peter Garnet, is becoming one of the outstanding promoters of entertainments in the district. Not content with carrying college work, acting as instructor of boxing in the college gym, and working in Youngstown many weekends, the Westminster college idol has promoted two very excellent shows in the New Wilmington Community House during the past three months.

Last week he promoted a variety show which included music, singing, dances by a Scotch Highlander in native togs, and three excellent exhibitions of the manly art of self defense.

Kansas acts as promoter, publicity man, stage director, announcer and participant in these shows which are attracting considerable interest among the college students and townspeople. It would not surprise the New Wilmington coterie greatly if B. F. Keith were to sign him up as general handy man for one of his circuits in the near future.

College Tennis Players Start Season's Plans

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., March 23.—With the coming of robins, marbles, spring fever and other signs of spring, tennis once more somes to the foreground at Westminster. Prospects for this year's varsity team are exceedingly bright despite the loss of two stars through graduation last June.

William Clark of New Wilmington; William Shaffer, a transfer from the University of Michigan, and George Herriot of New Wilmington are among the new men who show enough promise to step into the places left vacant by the graduation of Joseph McFate and John Crowe last year. Added to this array will be the names of Captain McDowell, Gibson, McQuiston, and Mansell, all lettermen from last year's Tri-State Conference championship team.

Westminster has won the Tri-State Conference championship for the past two years. Another championship team this year would give the Blue and White permanent possession of the conference trophy.

In all probability, matches will be played during the season: two each with Duquesne, Pitt, Bethany, Geneva, Thiel, Carnegie Tech and one match with the Alumni.

Offer Late Bills To Legislature

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 23.—Today's session being the last in which bills may be introduced in the house of representatives, members of the lower body of the legislature rushed to drop their offerings into the hopper.

Among the late bills was one offered by Representative Purucker of Allegheny fixing the term of a major general in the national guard at five years.

Another bill introduced today by Representative Alexander, Delaware, provides a standard for all liability insurance companies whereby the insurer shall not be released because of the insolvency or bankruptcy of the insured.

Other bills introduced were by:

Brown, Luzerne, fixing the sheriffs salaries in third class counties.

Hartsock, Blair, providing for the creation and regulation of municipal liens for grading, curbing and paving.

Wheeler, Forest, amending the inheritance tax law by authorizing the auditor general to appoint investigators and appraisers.

Wheeler, Forest, imposing a tax of eight mills on gross receipts of motor transportation companies carrying both passengers and freight.

Armstrong Armstrong, allowing an increase in the registration fees and in the weight of motor vehicles having eight wheels.

Peters, Montgomery, authorizing county treasurers to pay to township treasurers one-fourth of the tax on personal property.

Flinchbaugh, York, removing the restriction on the employment of cashiers when permitted by the board of directors of corporations.

Smith, Philadelphia, creating a notary public examining board in the department of public instruction.

Horn, Northampton, relating to and defining pistols, revolvers, machine guns and silencers.

Dunn, Allegheny, permitting blind persons to solicit aid in municipalities until the commonwealth makes other provisions for them.

WIVES GIVEN ANNUAL FLIGHT

Wives of the army and navy aviation officers of Wright and McCook Flying fields at Dayton, O., are allowed but one flight a year with their husbands. Here are five of them ready for their annual journey above the clouds. They are the wives of Captain John G. Colgan, Saptain Siras Blair, Lieutenant James T. Hutchinson, Lieut. Com. Paul M. Bates, and Major Robert A. Hale.

JUDGE PRATHER TAKES STAND IN PAROLE PETITION

Refuses Meadville Man Who Openly Violated Rum Law

MEADVILLE, March 23—Granting or denying a petition for parole is not to be governed by counting the number of petitioners and remonstrants against, Judge Thomas J. Prather said Monday in handing down a decision refusing the pardon or John Hoegerl, former brewer, now serving a term in the Allegheny county workhouse for violation of the liquor laws.

"In support of his petition he presents letters from a number of friends, urging his parole, together with the general petition signed by something over 400 persons," Judge Prather in his opinion cited. "In opposition to the prayer of petition, the district attorney files a remonstrance against its granting, signed by about 350 citizens of the county, mostly resident within Meadville.

"The citizens of the county, who are interested in the result of this proceeding, are to be commended for expressing themselves both for and against the prayer of petition. Petitions and remonstrances are the proper method of urging their respective positions. In our opinion, however, a case of this nature, concerning which public opinion registers itself quickly pro or con, is not to be determined merely by counting the number of petitioners for and remonstrants against.

"We realize that the sentence in this case was a severe one, but we do not think it more severe than defendant's brazen contempt for the law merited.

"Defendant's calculated conduct and laborious preparation for the manufacture and sale of liquor on a large scale furnish the convincing proofs of his studied contempt for the law. We are of the opinion that the granting of the parole sought would be a discouragement to the spirit of those who believe that the eighteenth amendment was enacted for observance, and would distinctly encourage those who are opposed to its provisions. It therefore becomes our duty to refuse this parole."

Hoegerl was sentenced on May 24, 1926, to serve 20 months in the Allegheny county workhouse, approximately half of this term having been served to the time of the asking for parole.

Westminster Will Honor Beethoven

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Mar. 23.—Dr. Franz Bellinger, Director of the Westminster School of Music, announced yesterday that the one hundredth anniversary of Beethoven's death will be commemorated at Westminster on Thursday evening when the Misses Kagy and Mockel, members of the faculty of the School of Music, will present a recital in the New Wilmington Community House.

Both Miss Kagy and Miss Mockel are well-known artists in this district, having entertained at various musicales, concerts, and recitals in New Castle, Sharon, Butler, and surrounding towns.

Practically all over the world this week is being celebrated as Beethoven week. It is, as Dr. Bellinger said yesterday, in no sense a revival, but rather a grateful appreciation of the gifts of this genius which were bestowed upon mankind.

Over 200 Attend Christian Endeavor Rally At Central Christian Church

REV. C. E. KOLB MAKES ADDRESS

Two Of County Societies Are Awarded Banners For Attendance

Enthusiasm and a splendid spirit of fellowship were outstanding features of the banquet and program at the annual rally of Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union, Tuesday evening in the Central Christian church of this city.

The meeting opened with the banquet at 6:30 served in the church dining room at tastefully appointed tables by the ladies of the congregation. Covers were arranged for 200. Pep singing and cheers from the various societies represented were much enjoyed at this time.

Rev. Haverfield Presides

Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, pastor of Westfield Presbyterian church and president of the County Union presided at the evening service which followed the dinner. Some 221 members answered to roll call and with a number of guests the total attendance was about 275.

Rev. C. E. Kolb of Pittsburgh, general secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Society was the principal speaker of the occasion. Rev. Kolb brought a very timely message on the theme "For Christ and the Church." The keynote of his address was loyalty to the church.

Two societies had one hundred per cent attendance. They were: Bessemer Presbyterian church and First Christian church of this city. The Bessemer society had 37 enrolled and 37 present; the First Christian society, enrolled 32 with 32 present. Both societies were entitled to the shield. It was decided that the Bessemer society should have the shield for three months and the First Christian society the remaining three months. The banner was awarded to the Westfield Presbyterian society having the largest delegation. Their attendance was 39 out of 42 enrolled. This society has won the banner for the last three years so will be able to keep it for all time.

Officers Elected

The following officers were elected: President, Cecil Bailey of the New Bedford Presbyterian church; vice president, Harry Wilson of the Reformed Presbyterian church of this city; recording secretary, Mrs. Sidney Smith of the First Christian church, New Castle; corresponding secretary, Miss Joyce Wilson of Central Presbyterian church, this city. Rev. J. B. Porter of the conference church was the installing officer.

About 50 registered delegates from the societies throughout the county and city, were reported to attend the International C. E. convention which will be held in Cleveland, O., in July. Westfield alone has about 25 of the number.

Miss Blanche Bright of this city was elected to represent Lawrence county at the state executive meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society which convenes Friday in Harrisburg, Pa.

The rally was considered the best ever held by the County Union since its organization.

Engine At Power Plant Makes Record

GROVE CITY, Pa., March 23.—Engine No. 1 at the Grove City electric power plant, according to reports, has completed a record of which the city, as well as the Bessemer Gas Engine Company, builders of the big engines, are extremely proud. In a test the engine has run 43 days and 13 hours without a stop. The only time out during the period of 63 days and eight minutes was the two 10-minute stops to make observations and a few adjustments. The engine is still running in a satisfactory manner. The record-making engine was built by the local company and is of the Diesel type.

A new Diesel type M engine is now ready for installation in the local light plant to relieve the other engine and will be installed during this week, to be ready for heavy service in a few days.

Postpone Girl's Triangle Debate

GROVE CITY, Pa., March 23.—The girls' intercollegiate triangle debate between Geneva, Westminster and Grove City, which was to have been held on March 16, will be debated, probably during the first week in April, according to plans which are now being formed. The date for the triangle meet was originally set for March 16, but due to the fact that Westminster has been handicapped by the loss of reference material since the burning of her administration building, it was postponed by the mutual agreement of Dr. Dawson of Westminster, Dr. Clark of Geneva and Prof. Burrowes of Grove City.

The subject of the debate is: Resolved: that Congress should have the power to enact uniform marriage and divorce laws, is one of national interest and is first choice of the national referendum through the Pi Kappa Delta, Honorary Forensic Society, for women's debates this year. The subject was discussed in the inter-club debates of the local college and much interest is being shown in the intercollegiate meet. The Grove City affirmative team consists of Almira Rhea, Ruth Sangree, Helen Bow and Beulah Veiock. The negative team, Mary George, Margaret Shaffer, Marie Fisher and Marietta Edmund.

Wrestling Team Being Selected

Six of the wrestling team to represent the New Castle association in the wrestling tournament to be held in the Y. M. C. A. gym Saturday night, March 26, have been chosen, announces Walter Kirker, physical director at the local Y.

Those who have been chosen on the New Castle team are: Heck George, Louis Pearl, J. Heckathorne, John Borio, Ralph Brooks and Carl Sweet. Others to make up a full team will be selected soon.

Two more associations have sent entries for the contest.

Harry Day, director at the Sewickley Y., is sending two men, one in the 108-pound class and one in the 135-pound class.

Mr. Godfrey of the New Kensington Y. is sending two men of the 147-pound class.

FOREIGN WAR VETS PLAN FOR SALE OF POPPIES

Arrangements Being Made For Memorial Poppy Day Here

At the regular meeting of Corporal Harry L. McBride Post No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars held this week, plans were formulated for the Memorial Poppy Day to be held this year.

A committee consisting of Dave T. Richards, chairman, John Stoner, W. S. Lewis, E. C. Book and George F. Runkle was appointed and will proceed with the proper organization plans.

It was decided at the meeting to make this a "Buddy Poppy Day", in this manner giving disabled ex-service men the benefit of their labors in making these poppies.

Heretofore, a German made poppy was offered to the public due to its low cost, thus depriving disabled buddies of the profit or means of living, but this year, the Veterans of Foreign Wars are going to sell only "Buddy" poppies made by disabled soldiers, sailors and marines in the hospitals of this country.

Funds For Relief

The funds derived from the sale of the poppies will be turned over entirely to a committee of prominent local citizens, who will use it for relief purposes for disabled ex-service men. The committee will be announced later.

The public at large is believed to be in sympathy with a movement of this kind, which tends to relieve the suffering of our disabled soldiers and by heartily supporting this poppy drive, they will render a Christian and humane help to these buddies in our hospitals.

The following committee was also appointed to cooperate with other patriotic organizations in the furtherance of plans for a Memorial Day observance as is the custom here. George Thompson is the chairman and the members of the committee are William Nunley, Orville Potter, Earl R. Toler and George F. Runkle. This committee is heartily behind this work of refreshing the public's memory of the sacrifices of those heroes who have answered the last bugle call. Further plans will be announced by the general committee.

New members were initated and many applications read and approved at this meeting. Orville Potter was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy in the office of Junior Vice-Commander and was duly obligated to that office.

A discussion of war risk insurance and bonus insurance was held and any ex-service man who wishes help in conversion or loan applications can secure it by calling at 329 Neshannock avenue, the rooms of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, any evening after 7 o'clock.

A contract was also let for improvements to the home of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, after lengthy discussion on bids rendered. The proposed renovation for the members and the auxiliary of the organization.

After the regular meeting, eats (army style) and smokes were in vogue. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all in attendance.

Was RCA Telling the Truth?

"The Radiola 20 is twenty times more selective than any other antenna set on the market." The RCA made this statement in their advertising in leading newspapers of the country.

The Better Business Bureau, which is a protective organization against fraudulent advertising, (evidently prompted by some of the RCA's competitors), questioned the truth of these ads and demanded proof from RCA. Accordingly, the Bureau investigators were taken to the RCA laboratories in Van Courtland Park, New York, and were shown conclusively that the Radiola 20 was twenty times more selective than any other antenna set.

Radiola 20 is an entirely new 5-tube tuned Radio frequency set and at $78.00 is the best Radio buy today. Let us give you a demonstration and it will convince you.

Last Day For Any New Bills

Over 2,400 Measures Introduced At Present Legislative Session

LAWRENCE COUNTY BILLS FARE WELL

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 23. — When the House of Representatives adjourns tonight the last piece of legislation for the present session will have been introduced, at least in the House. Under a rule some weeks ago, March 23, was the last day on which to present bills although the Senate can present them as long as they please.

When the last bill is numbered, it will be found that about 2400 acts have been introduced in this session, of which more than half will have "died a-bornin'. Their sponsors never expected them to get out of committee, but the folks back home wanted them presented, and they were. If a thousand will have come from the committee, more than half will never reach the governor, if 250 reach him, and of this number, it is a safe guess that many will get the axe.

Lawrence County Bills

Thus far, the bills of the Lawrence County delegation in both the Senate and the House have been given most courteous treatment. In the Senate, Senator Weingartner had the additional judge's bill passed and signed, had his bill to restrict the commissions for charitable institutions to 15 per cent, passed and is now ready for signature, had the bill providing that the bonds of sheriffs must be paid by the county, passed, and is ready for signature. His road and appropriation bills are not out yet, but the appropriations will be taken up with the rest of the state, and the road bills will be left in committee, if the Omnibus Road Bill is passed. In addition his election bills for the governor have been reported out, and if these are emasculated as it appears certain they will be as this is written, it will be no fault of Weingartner's.

In the House, Milton A. Bickett has some road bills and appropriation bills which will go the same route as those of Weingartner. Mr. Bickett presented few bills this time, but has done some splendid work, one of the pieces of work being secretary of the important Municipal Corporations Committee.

His colleague, Bart Richards, has had one bill passed and signed, this one an enabling act for registration of charters. The bill providing that Sanitary Policemen should be subjected to the same Civil Service requirements as policemen and firemen has passed the House and is up for final passage in the Senate today. His bill authorizing school boards to empower some officer to purchase supplies up to $100.00 passed the House unanimously on Tuesday and is now in the Senate. The bill calling for a $10,000.00 reduction in the two percent direct inheritance tax is in the Ways and Means Committee. If it gets out of this committee, the exemption will probably be cut to $1000.00 or $2000.00 but this is a step towards the eradication of an iniquitous tax.

New Climax Near In Ford Libel Suit

Business Manager Of Ford's Paper To Be Called To Stand

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, Mich., March 23.—The million dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit neared a new climax today over the charges that officials of the auto king's Dearborn Independent knew they were publishing falsehoods when they attacked Aaron Sapiro, the so-called wheat king.

Counsel for Sapiro hoped to call Fred L. Black, business manager of the publication, to the stand during the day and get from him an admission that he realized the anti-Sapiro articles were filed with falsehoods. Black was said to have made this admission to Walter Peteet, former secretary of the National Council of Farmers Cooperative Association, when the latter called on the Ford official to protest against the Sapiro attacks.

Peteet will be called as a witness later to relate his end of the conversation with Black. The court was told of the dialogue by William H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's counsel, who said Peteet and Robin Hood, of the Tennessee Cotton Cooperative Association, visited Black in an effort to halt the anti-Sapiro articles. The Sapiro forces, however, were on the defensive, too, due to an announcement by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond that they must amend their declaration of libel or he would dismiss a number of their libel charges. The Sapiro declaration, the judge said, was "insufficient" to establish a complete case against Ford.

Tarahumaras, World's Greatest Runners, to Compete in Texas

Men Think Little of 600 Mile Run to Town and Return

FROM a land where running is the national sport and the only recreation, men and women are coming to the United States to show us a little about foot races.

Members of the far-famed Tarahumara race of Indians of Mexico—the world's greatest endurance racers—will be permitted to race from San Antonio to Austin, Tex., on March 25, under a special ruling of the Department of Labor. The 82-mile race is to end at the University of Texas Stadium, and is to mark the opening of the annual relay contests there.

The world probably never has known an entire race in which endurance is so inbred as the Tarahumaras, natives of the Sierra Madre foothills.

Foot races are held the year round. Fortunes are won and lost on the results.

Racing is done in teams. Each team carries a ball, about two and a half inches in diameter, carved from the root of the oak. The leader of a team throws the ball as far as he can and the team sets out. The first man to the ball tosses it with his foot as far on as he can. Throughout the race the ball may be touched only with the foot, unless it is lodged in a crevice or falls on water, when the hands may be used.

Women have separate races. They use the same kind of a ball, but instead of with their feet, they bowl it along with a forked branch of a tree.

No man is ever beaten in a race. If he loses, it is because he was bewitched. At least so he and his tribesmen believe.

Races are preceded by strange ceremonies, designed to speed the runners on their way. Strange rites are undergone and charms applied to insure success.

Here is Miss Juanita Paciensia, a Tarahumara, who ran more than twenty-five miles in less than five hours.

One of the most potent lures for success is the smoking of a cigar especially prepared for the occasion. Drops of blood from a turtle or a bat are sprinkled on the leaves of tobacco before it is rolled.

Woman of Tribe Covers 25 Miles in Four Hours, Fifty-six Minutes

The races vary in length, from short distances up to twenty-five miles. So great are the powers of endurance of these Indians that they appear fresh at the end of the longest contests under the hottest suns. Even the poorest runners of the tribe think nothing of making forty miles in from four to six hours.

Almost unbelievable tales are told of their abilities. Karl Lumholt, in his "Unknown Mexico," said that men could be hired to run messages from their native hills to Chihuahua, 300 miles away. They would make the round trip in five days. One runner was known to have kept on from midday to sunrise the next day without stopping.

Mexicans hire the Indians to round up strayed horses. The method is simple. The Tarahumara merely follow the animal, making no effort to capture it until it is exhausted by the pursuit. And though the horse be unable to take another step, the Indian appears fresh at the end of such a chase. The same method is said to be used in capturing deer.

On long expeditions the Indians carry a gourd of water and a small cake of pressed meal. Their costumes are brief, almost to the point of embarrassment to the Caucasian.

Picked teams only will appear in the Texas races. Elimination meets were recently held in Mexico City. In one heat Juanita Paciensia ran forty-five kilometers, a little over twenty-five miles, in four hours and fifty-six minutes. This compares favorably with the men's straightaway long-distance record, established by S. C. A. Schofield, of England, who made twenty-five miles in three hours, thirty-seven minutes, six and eight-tenths seconds. Juanita, of course, has not a man's build, nor was Schofield bothered with a ball of oak.

Death Of 7 Babies Charged To Head Of Quebec Baby Farm

(International News Service)

HULL, Que., Mar. 23.—Mrs. Diana Lacroix, proprietress of a baby farm here, faces a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of three of seven infants in her keeping. Evidence showed the babies died of insufficient and impure nourishment and lack of care. Their bodies, it was stated, were like skeletons.

After the bodies of seven infants had been found a coroner's jury was called to inquire into the case. Upon hearing the evidence submitted the jury at once returned a verdict holding Mrs. Lacroix criminally responsible for the deaths.

A warrant for Mrs. Lacroix's arrest was issued and a charge of manslaughter was placed against her.

It is intimated by the authorities that when she comes to trial further evidence will be submitted by the prosecution, to show that the baby farm was conducted on an extensive scale, as many as eight babies being kept there at one time, and that since August last seven deaths have occurred there.

A mother of one of the children testified that on January 29 she had taken the baby, only a month and a half old, but weighing six and three-quarter pounds, and perfectly healthy, to Mrs. Lacroix. On February 10, it was dead and in such a terrible changed condition that the mother almost fainted when she saw it.

Dr. J. E. Champagne of Hull, testified he had paid five visits to the Lacroix establishment and had attended five children, three of whom had died. In each case he had found the children to be suffering from acute lack of nourishment.

The "shack" which is the Lacroix home, is on an offshoot of the Chelsea road known as "Stovepipe Alley" because most of its residents were negroes. It is a one story building of the log cabin type, with hardly enough accommodation for two persons, decidedly unsanitary, and with no facilities for handling children of tender years, delicate or otherwise.

OHIO WOMAN ON VERGE OF BECOMING WEALTHY NAMES HER HEIRS

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio, March 23.—With a fortune in view as the result of a sensational gas strike on her small farm in Meigs county, 10 miles from Pomeroy, Mrs. Sophia Parker was making certain today where her wealth will go when she passes away. Mrs. Parker insists that not one cent of any money she may have at death shall go to her sister, Mrs. Susan Kraus, now serving a sentence in the Marysville reformatory for swindling Meigs county residents out of $500,000 three years ago.

Gas was struck by the Pure Oil Company the day following a neighborhood prayer meeting. Many more wells are being drilled by the Pure Oil Company. Mrs. Parker's beneficiaries will be another sister and two nephews.

Unusual Program For Ben Franklin School On Thursday

A Library assembly will be held in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School on Thursday morning in which it will be vividly brought before the students the interesting material contained in certain books.

A large book will be placed on the stage and directed by the spirit of the book the characters will appear on the stage and tell their story. From the book of art will come a dancer, from the musical books will come forth singers and players who will give a selection of music and thus through the list.

Other books presented will be Rip Van Winkle, Materlinck's "Bluebird," and "Joseph and His Brethern."

The program will close with a procession of 22 characters representing 22 different books such as Tom Sawyer, Man Without a Country, Manley's Ghost from Dickens' Christmas Carol. Topsy from Uncle Tom's Cabin and a Pirate from Treasure Island.

The presentation of the program is under the direction of Miss Twila Kitch, teacher of dramatics and Miss Bess Noble, school librarian.

Neglect Provides Menace, Claim

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 23.—Public health is menaced by the neglect to provide sufficent hospitals for tuberculosis, through a false sense of security caused by the decrease in the White Plague during the past decade, declared Dr. W. P. Brown, formerly president of the Mississippi Valley Sanatorium Association and now medical secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, in an address today before delegates from various states attending a tuberculosis institute.

"Spread of tuberculosis, monetary loss to the Commonwealth and real suffering could be radically lessened if beds were available in Pennsylvania for the cases actively diseased," said the speaker. He pointed out that the State sanatoria had a waiting list of from 500 to 800 during the last year, causing serious delay in treatment.

The county tuberculosis hospital plan has been found successful in other states, such as Minnesota and Illinois; and has recently been adopted in Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey. In New York state in 1925 there were 10,611 deaths from tuberculosis and the beds for the tuberculosis numbered 10,466.

"The minimum bed capacity should be one bed for each death from tuberculosis," according to the speaker. "Pennsylvania falls 3,000 beds short of this standard. The fact that the tuberculosis death rate in Pennsylvania is remaining stationary makes it plain that more beds should be provided and increasing public health work carried on to reduce this scourge."

Wrote Dr. Pierce— Now She Is Well

—Ulrich Studio

"Three years ago I went down in health with inward weakness," said Mrs. Dora Elliott of 2228 W. Cumberland St., Lebanon, Pa. "I had a catarrhal condition and continuous pains in my right side. I also cramped for two or three days at a time. I was becoming weak and miserable and very much discouraged when I heard that if I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice it would be given to me. I did so, followed the advice given and today I am well, free from all my former ailments,—thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery, and Pleasant Pellets, also the Lotion Tablets and Healing Suppositories, which I was able to purchase right here at the drug store."

Would YOU give 25¢ for a happy marriage?

IT'S extraordinary about some people.

They hustle through the world, looking high and low for pleasure, worried for fear they will miss something good. Worried and hard up and nervous.

And most of the time the good things are lying right around them—easy to get—inexpensive—just crying to be gathered up.

Take this amazing article by Booth Tarkington on marriage, as an example.

It's doubtful if anything so profound, so revealing, so downright helpful has recently been written on that subject. There's a definite suggestion in it—a formula—that might well change the whole life of young men and women who are planning their marriage. It would simplify the situation and improve the happiness of millions of married couples.

But how many people will take the little trouble of stepping across to the newsstand and putting down a quarter?

How many are there in this city who will risk 25 cents for a happier marriage—a fuller, richer LIFE?

It Was the Cause of Her Troubles—Poor Skin—Sallow Complexion—Headaches—Pains—Nervousness—Indigestion—With Constipation Always a Worry!

But—"Oh, What Joy"—When She Learned the Secret of Keeping Well!

Like thousands of women, she suffered silently—afraid to tell her troubles to others. But she was getting desperate—she must have advice! So she went to see a doctor.

Examination of her blood and urinalysis showed indications of oncoming system-poisoning—doctors call it TOXEMIA. And once it sets in deeply—any woman will look and feel ten to twenty years older, miserable and unhappy. It is a most prevalent malady, yet legions of men, women and children never suspect its insidious approach.

But now,—science is able to cope successfully with this health-destroying condition—and millions of sufferers will benefit—if they heed the warning.

It takes something more than a mere laxative to cleanse the system of poisonous toxins that bring on its hundred or more symptoms. However, with the introduction of Partola,—often called "The Doctor in Candy Form"—a world of relief and renewed health is opened to all who are not as well or as strong as they would like to be.

Therefore, if at times you feel nervous, worried, have headaches, biliousness, pains, sleepless nights; lack appetite, strength, ambition, or if bowels do not act regularly—heed the warning—they are symptons of oncoming TOXEMIA. Get busy, at once,—start sterilizing the waste matter in your intestines and end constipation. Begin taking Partola, pleasant mint-flavored antiseptic and laxative wafers, thereby cleansing your system of the poisons that make you feel miserable. Eat two at night, then feel the symptons depart. Watch your skin clear up, your eyes brighten, and the smile of contentment come back!

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

HE WHO FIGHTS AND RUNS AWAY

A puzzled boy was Petares. What in the name of the seven seas could he have said to make Old Hippo and his brother feel so badly? He tried to think, but couldn't. But the sight of those two big cry-babies was too much for him. A laugh rose in his throat, and although he tried hard to smother it by coughing, the queer choky sound he made didn't deceive the Hippos one single bit.

Faster than ever the tears ran down their leathery cheeks.

"That's right! First say mean things to us and then laugh at us!" wailed one.

"You wouldn't dare do it if you didn't know we were helpless!" sobbed the other.

Now less than ever, did Petares know what it was all about. He hadn't guessed any such thing and he was much surprised to hear it. As for the lean hound, that fellow was more amazed than his master, but not half so polite.

"Ah, you talk foolish!" barked he. "What do you mean, you're helpless! You know better! Why, you're both bigger than 'most any animal we've ever seen. One blow from your mighty hoofs and I'll bet even cruel crocodile himself would never guess what had struck him! As for master here, and me—once you caught us you could make away with us in short order. You know you could!"

"Nevertheless we are helpless, quite helpless!" insisted Old Hippo, but the tears had stopped trickling down his nose. "We couldn't hurt a cat!"

"But why not?" The lean hound was persistent.

"Because our kind hearts will not let us. Why, rather than rush into battle with an enemy we turn tail and hurry off in the opposite direction the second we spy him coming. It is lots easier to keep out of trouble than to get out, once you're in!" Wisely, Old Hippo nodded his head.

"Besides, we Hippos are peaceful folks. We need not to kill for food, for we feast on roots and grasses and we have not the wish to kill for fun. And—let me tell you a secret—he who fights not, but runs away, will live to fight another day. And life is sweeter far to us than battle and bloodshed!" added Old Hippo's brother.

"And that is why," rumbled the brothers Hippo, speaking at the same time, "that is why our feelings were hurt when you said perhaps we would have harmed you if we'd had you at our mercy. Why, had be come upon you asleep and unprotected, you'd have been as safe as—as"—

Chamber Asks For Opinion On Insurance Plan

Chamber Sending Letters To Members On Compulsory Insurance

Motor Club Co-operating With State A. A. A. In Fighting The Law

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., March 23.—The local Chamber of Commerce is sending letters to all the members regarding Compulsory Automobile Insurance in this state as follows:

Members, Chamber of Commerce,
Ellwood City, Penna.

Dear Member:

Shall We Insure By Law?

It has been our American way to attempt to solve problems by saying "There ought to be a law". Now that Compulsory Automobile Insurance is a much discussed subject also being brought before our law making bodies throughout the United States, we believe we should familiarize ourselves with both sides of the question to determine whether or not we want such a law on Compulsory Automobile Insurance.

We are enclosing herewith two pamphlets which have some mighty good information along this line and no doubt you have received other information of much value, so therefore, we respectfully request that each member of the local Chamber of Commerce mark the enclosed post card and return it by April 1.

We hope that you will see fit to give this question serious consideration as it is our wish to have every member of the Chamber of Commerce express his opinion on this subject in order that our delegate to the National United States Chamber of Commerce Convention will have the sentiment of his organization and will be governed accordingly.

Yours very truly,
T. C. Foly,
Secretary.

An addressed card is being sent with each lettor asking the members to voice their opinion and return the card to the Chamber of Commerce.

A bill has been introduced into the State Legislature relative to this measure, and the Ellwood City Motor club is cooperating with the state federation in fighting the passing of it. The Motor clubs take the stand that this law has not been tried out to sufficient extent in any other state, and they want to watch its progress in Massachusetts, where it has been in effect for some time. At any rate a concensus of opinion from the local members will be appreciated by the Chamber of Commerce.

A report will be given by the Crippled Children Clinic committee, and it is to be expected that some of the little proteges will be present with a made-over arm or limb to show the guests, a result of the endeavors of the local Rotary club.

Celebrate Victory At High School

W. P. I. A. L. Trophy Is Presented To Principal Orth For High School

The assembly at the Senior High school on Tuesday was an unusual one. By this time everyone probably knows, or at least should know, that the Senior High boys brought home the bacon Monday night, in the form of the W. P. I. A. L. basketball trophy. The chapel held on Tuesday morning was to do honor to these boys and also to receive the trophy.

The program was opened with cheers, after which the students sang the school song. Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner then read a telegram from State Senator George T. Weingartner, congratulating the team on its fine showing. The rest of the program consisted mainly of brief speeches by the following: Arthur Sillman, Charles "Tippy" Richards, Glenn Thomas, Paul Reider, Mike Kulich, Clark McClelland, Johnnie Johnson, Bruce Franklin, Acting Captain Walter "Baldy" McGrath and Student Manager Ralph Bishton. Tony Ostrosky was also asked to speak, but he was too modest and refused.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh then congratulated the team for its splendid work. He said that he has been working for 10 years to get possession of the W. P. I. A. L. basketball trophy and has just got it. George "Gig" Thomas and William L. Klee, assistant coaches, spoke next. They congratulated the team and cited that they were proud to have connections with the same. Each gave a fine talk. Ralph Gardner then related the progress of the team this year and he, too, gave his heartfelt appreciation to the team and wished it continued success.

The outstanding feature of the assembly was the presentation of the trophy to Principal F. L. Orth to be placed in the showcase by "Baldy" McGrath. The names of the members of the team will be engraved on it. McGrath also presented two basketballs to be placed in the case. These were the two used in the Edgewood and Coraopolis tilts respectively. The assembly, the first one to celebrate the winning of a W. P. I. A. L. basketball trophy, was concluded after Mr. Orth read a telegram from Bart Richards in Harrisburg congratulating the team.

The world's interest seems rooted in the fact that whenever a Chinese soldier gets killed, there goes another customer.

Nature plays no favorites. There's just as much static in a fundamentalist radio sermon as in any other kind.

O'HARA PLEASES HIS AUDIENCE

Good Sized Crowd At High School Auditorium Tuesday Evening

It has always been customary to associate the Irish with humor and song and this conception was carried out to the very limit by Geoffrey O'Hara on Tuesday evening at his appearance at the Senior High school under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club of this city, to further the work of their eye, ear, nose and throat clinic. Mr. O'Hara lived up to all expectations—in fact he exceeded them for he was entertaining to the nth degree.

Billed to speak on the subject of putting the muse in music Mr. O'Hara very successfully took the jazz out of it and did it in such a way as to make the audience that nearly filled the downstairs and overflowed into the balcony his friends forever after. A musician of ability Mr. O'Hara both played and sang his way into the hearts of his hearers, some of the works of masters of note, jazzed by the present day composers and some of his own compositions and improvisions.

With a program that ran through the folk songs of the ancient days to the present style music interspersed at times with short talks that brought out the kneenest of thought and sharpest of wit, Mr. O'Hara proved to be one of those all lecturers that is at home anywhere.

For an hour and a half Mr. O'Hara held the stage and there wasn't a dull minute in it. His rendition of the present day jazz music and the relation it bore to the old time masters all music lovers know and revere was both clever and humorous. Known the world over as the author of the world war popular song of 'K-K-K-Katy" Mr. O'Hara gave his own version of it and how and why he wrote it and he thea proceeded to jazz it and also to give it the earmarks of the classics. "K-K-K-Katy" at the fingers of the man who conceived and wrote even became a sweet chime number as played by this past-master of composition and origination.

Unlike many lecturers Mr. O'Hara didn't settle all the vital political questions of the day or even try it. Politics and prohibition were left out entirely, and in the place was a wholesome humor and quick wit that made the entertainment a delight.

Acid Eats Steel

Most tooth troubles, most gum troubles, are due to acid. Sugars and starch form that acid by fermenting between the teeth and in crevices. That acid attacks the teeth and gums—largely where the tooth brush does not reach.

NEW CASTLE TEAM DEPARTS FOR STATE TOURNEY

Sixteen In Party, First Game Thursday

Drawing For Tourney Places Will Be Made Tomorrow Morning At 11 O'clock

Ten Members Of Team, Klaber And Officials Comprise Party

(By "BUGS" WALTHER)

New Castle high's basketball team, with the championship of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic league tucked away, departed for State College, Pa., at 9 o'clock this morning. The locals will likely reach their destination late this afternoon.

Sixteen in Party.

There were 16 members of the New Castle party in machines as they started the long journey today. The contingent is as follows: Captain Clarence Klaber, Acting Captain "Baldy" McGrath, Paul Reider, Bruce Franklin, Tony Ostrosky, Arthur Stillman, Clark McClelland, "Mike" Kulich, Glenn Thomas, Charles "Tippy" Richards, Johnny Johnson, Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, Assistant Coaches William Klee and George "Gig" Thomas and Student Manager Ralph Bishton. The party will travel in three machines.

Following the huge demonstration by some 8,000 fans at the Ben Franklin high field on Tuesday night, the team members were sent home and instructed to hie themselves to bed. The spirit of the team is high and they are not at all over-confident following their recent championship game at the Pitt stadium. The boys realize full well that they will meet the cream of the state in the tourney at State College and that each team entered will be of championship calibre.

May Stop En Route

It is understood that arrangements have been made for the boys to quarter at the State College Inn during their stay at State College, Pa. According to plans made here prior to the start of the journey the boys will be given a light workout at Bellefonte Academy this afternoon if all goes well on the trip.

There will be eight teams, from as many districts of the state, vieing for honors in the tournament. The drawings for the tourney will be made Thursday morning in the office of the superintendent of State College, at which time all officials of all teams will be present.

The first games of the tourney will start on Thursday afternoon. There will be two games in the afternoon and two in the evening, which will take in the eight teams comprising the tourney list.

The semi-final games will be played Friday afternoon and evening, with the winners of the Thursday games participating. The final game of the series will be staged on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, when the new state champions will be crowned.

Workout Tuesday

Just for the sake of keeping in trim Coach Bridenbaugh sent the boys through a light drill at the Senior High floor on Tuesday afternoon. The boys appeared to be in fine condition following their hard fight at the Pitt Stadium on Monday night.

Prior to the start of the workout on Tuesday afternoon Coach Bridenbaugh and Ralph Gardner gave the boys a heart-to-heart talk about their trip to State and the significance of the thing, and instructed them to erase all confidence out of their minds. The boys battled hard to win the W. P. I. A. L. title, but they will find the going just as tough at State College, and for that reason the coaches were just a little afraid lest the boys become overanxious.

Football Star Is Play-wright

BEAVER FALLS, March 23.—One of Geneva's football stars has turned play-wright. Ollie Harris, erstwhile fire eating fullback on Coach Bo McMillin's Covenanter conquerors, has written a four act musical comedy for students presentation, called "Bobby". The plot has to do with college life, and will be presented by a cast of sixty college students.

This show is to be given Friday night, March 25. A matinee for the children is to be presented Friday afternoon.

One act of the play calls for a touchdown scene, so Harris has arranged with Bo McMillin's advice, two entire teams on the stage for this scene. The winning team is captained by the hero, Bobby, taken by Todd Lloyd of Ellwood City. Lloyd played reserve football, and was a guard on Geneva's basketball team this last season.

"I've Cashed In On Veterans," Says Mack, Discussing Team

By NORMAN E. BROWN

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 23.—Connie Mack is already cashing in on his investments of the winter.

He said so himself today.

Last winter he paid $125,000 for Joe Boley, Baltimore shortstop star.

He laid $65,000 on the counter to get Ty Cobb to sign a year's contract.

He assumed Zack Wheat's $18,000 contract.

He offered Eddie Collins a salary commensurate with his experience and ability as a player.

"And here is what has happened to date," said Connie, while his team was warming up for a game with the Giants.

"Chick Galloway reported in better shape than he was the day he quit playing last fall."

Interrupting Connie it may be stated that Galloway, good shortstop in his own right, has always lacked the fight, pep, initiative or whatever you choose to call it, to make him a potent factor in the team's defense and offense. He failed to take the game seriously. Boley's arrival means the bench for Chick unless he can oust the newcomer. And this he has set out to do.

"Bill Lamar is in better shape now than he was at any time last season," went on the tall leader.

Lamar, a wonderful hitter, came to camp a total stranger to the weakness which has prevented him in the past from keeping in condition. He looks better physically than he did a year ago this time and has told friends that he has found himself at last.

"And Eddie Collins has already shown me how he will help our infield," went on Connie.

"Eddie always knows what to do. He keeps the boys up and at every play. There's nothing worse to the men on the field and those on the bench than the spectacle of a player in a play not knowing what to do."

Then Mack went on to discuss his team generally.

"In addition to Eddie at second and Boley at short I imagine that Poole will start the season at first. Branom, the new first baseman, is a big fellow and I don't want to hurry him. There is no doubt but what he is a good man, though.

"I have five outfielders from which to choose—Cobb, Wheat, Simmons, Lamar and French. No matter what choices I name, I'll be satisfied with the outfield.

"For pitchers I have five on whom I can count as regulars—Rommel, Gray and Ehmke as right handers and Walberg and Grove as left handers with Pate for relief work and Jack Quinn to help us. Willis looks very good also.

"I have a great catching staff in Mickey Cochrane, Cy Perkins and Foxx. Perkins is one of the few men in baseball who can remain out of the game for a week or four weeks and then go in and play great ball. Foxx seems ready."

Connie did not mention his third base problem, but the probabilities are that Dykes and Hale will share it, unless one or the other fits in well with the winning combination which Connie hopes will swing into action when the bell rings.

I noticed one think about Connie and Kid Gleason as they labored with the family on the field. Both are impressing upon the players this year the necessity of going slow with their training. With practically a month to go, Connie wants them to take their time. He has reason to feel that last year they under-estimated the warmth of the tropical sun down here and as a result fairly played themselves out before the opening of the season.

SORDS POINTS

One Rookie Must Wait For Manager To Bench Himself

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Stuffy McInnis, star first baseman in his day and now manager of the remnant ball club known as the Phillies, probably will play first base himself at the opening of the season and until he finds the managerial or field pace of his team too hot. Then he will bench himself. When and if this happens Mr. Richard Attreau will get his chance.

McInnis rates Attreau, young first baseman obtained from the Norfolk club of the Virginia league as one of the best prospects for future use the club now owns. And it needs young blood the way Washington's men needed clothes at Valley Forge.

Attreau carried up with him to the big show most of the honors in the Virginia loop for 1926.

He ranked second in batting with a .371 average.

He scored more runs than anyone else in the league—154.

He led the league in the number of base hits with 225.

He stole 70 bases, which not only gave him an easy lead in that division but has caused most proof readers and other readers to check over the number twice every time it has appeared. The average player in any league would like to swipe that many in two years.

He played first base in capable style although he ranked fourth in abstract fielding.

He throws with the proper arm for a first baseman—the left one. He is rangy and uses his range well in covering the bag on bad throws. He could lean out and pick them out of the dirt in good style when he joined the club. Stuffy, king of them all in his day when it came to shoveling up bad throws from a cloud of dust, has shown him more fine points in the gentle art of saving the game and the throw and the game.

This is Attreau's first trip up, the Phils buying him from the minor league outfit last fall

Cleveland Team To Miss Speaker

Several Will Try To Fill His Shoes In Indians' Outfield

McALLISTER TAKES OVER PILOT ROLE

(Editor's note: This is the 11th and last of a series of stories by Davis J. Walsh on major league ball clubs in training.)

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

LAKELAND, Fla., March 23.—The football rules committee moved the goal posts back 10 yards and nobody knows what the general effect will be, wherein the committee differs ever so slightly from the Cleveland Indians, who moved their perennial center field and whilom manager out of his uniform and out of their ball park, leaving the populace in some doubt as to whether a mistake was not made in either case or both.

Anyhow, the Indians are precisely the same club that finished second in the American League last year, except that Tris Speaker, their manager and leading outfielder these many years, is absolutely no more. And somehow the Indians without Speaker must seem like a pea without its knife.

Got Nothing in Return

The fact of the matter is that the Indians presented the Senators with what presumably was a first-class outfielder and received nothing in return.

The managerial void prompted by the gentleman's departure probably will prove to be less poignant particularly with a form-fitting leader like Jack McAllister available. Jack has been around the ball club so long that the boys have come to look forward to him like grapefruit in the eye at breakfast.

In Speaker's place there has sprung several bright young men who are willing to do anything, even die for dear old Rutgers. Among them are Homer Summa, right fielder by environment, and Pat McNulty, who has been threatening to go somewhere for years, but always forgets to start. Fred Eichrondt, up with the club before, and Ike Woeber, from Dallas, are also doing the best they can. George Gerkin, another second-year Indian, is in camp and may stick. However, it is probable that the regular outfield will be made up of Charley Jamieson, McNulty and Summa.

The 1926 infield is intact, or will be. George Burns, voted the league's most valuable player, will be the first baseman, although I understand this information is not exclusive. Fred Spurgeon will be the second baseman as soon as he makes an adjustment of the carburetor, made necessary by an appendicitis complex.

Joe Sewell, one of the ranking shortstops, hasn't got around to furnishing visual proof of the matter because he has had to favor a sore arm. However, Rube Lutzke is playing third base without his wheel chair, thereby furnishing a camp innovation.

One of the best of the young infielders is Johnny Hodapp, once a big number from Indianapolis, but now one of the boys in Cleveland. John broke a careless leg in Cleveland last year and never has been the same. Another youth of promise is Jack Burnett of the University of Florida.

Lew Fonseca, formerly with the Phillies, improved so rapidly last year that he finally was sold to Newark and now is with the Indians. This young man always could hit.

The catchers, Luke Sewell, Martin Autry and Glenn Myatt, remain unchanged between seasons, meaning that the catching will be more than adequate. One "Kid" McRae also is with the outfit.

The pitchers also will remain as is. Briefly, the list includes George Uhle, who won some 27 ball games last year. Emil Levison, a great first-year man; Joe Shaute, another consistent winner; Garland Buckeye, Sherry Smith, who pitches an excellent game to first base, and Lefty Miller. Two good young ones are Willis Hudlin, from the Texas League, and Earl Collard of Evansville, Ind., right-handers both. Benny Karr, the inevitable, also is with the team, but hasn't exactly given a sound reason for it.

This club is a certain contender, with its pitching, hitting and infield defense. In fact, even with Speaker gone, it may be that Cleveland fans will get a chance to have McCallisteristics on or about the first of October.

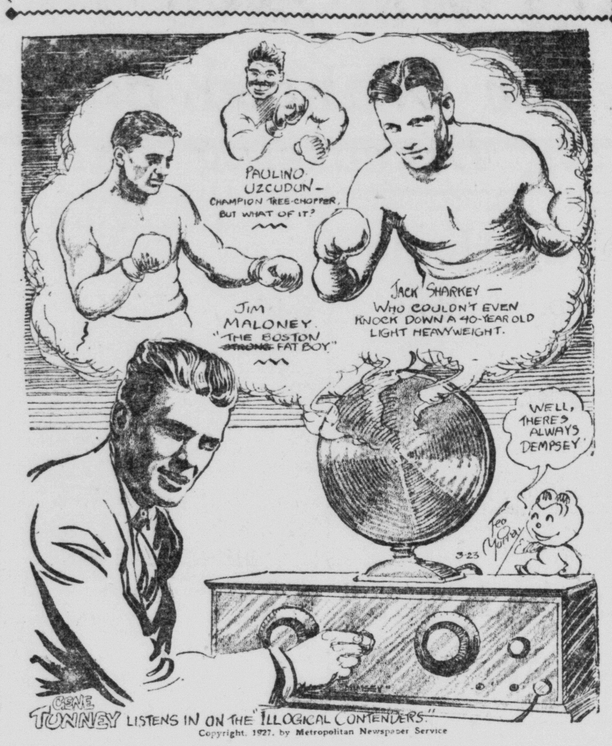
Carl And Charlie Win At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, March 23.—Although they did not occupy the star position on the fistic card last night Carl Tremaine won from California Joe Lynch in 10 rounds, Charley O'Connell won from Solly Seamons in 10 rounds and Joe Peppers took an unpopular verdict from Mike Conroy in six rounds.

Ryerson Of Yale Becomes Medalist

ST. AUGUSTINE, March 23.—Jack Cummins, 16, Cleveland, who set a new course record in the annual Florida amateur golf tourney here Monday, turned in an 89 yesterday for the course. The medal went to Jack Ryerson, former Yale star, who turned in a 73.

Gene Isn't Worried — By Feg Murray



Well, here it is six months to the day since Gene Tunney acquired the title, and whether he's been suspended by the New York State boxing commission or not, I suppose that he has a casual interest in the Uzcudun-Heeney match in New York tonight. That is, he's merely curious to see which one will be the casualty: Paulino, the Bouncing Basque, or Heeney, the Australian Hyena. Perhaps somewhere "out there", wherever he happens to be at the moment, champion Gene has tuned in on Station "WMSG", Madison Square Garden, New York, and is getting an earful trying to discover who is going to [illegible] opponent, if any. But what with all the clowning going [illegible] ing tonight, he'll likely as not think he's tuned in on the circus by mistake and will put aside his radio for more entertaining things—say a good book, for instance.

It may be that J. J. Tunney also tuned in on the Maloney-Delaney-Bologney affair, and also the McTigue-Sharkey shellacking bee. What, pray, were the champion's thoughts as he listened to nearly 22 rounds of "fighting" between four of the outstanding heavyweights, all entered in the elimination tournament to determine the logical contender for his crown?

The Great Delaney, boomed as the next heavyweight champion, a great disappointment to his friends and backers, his deadly right useless against the boy from Boston. Jim Maloney, "the Second John L. Sullivan", unable to floor a man 30 pounds lighter, who, it was later shown, was defending himself with a broken thumb and a "tennis elbow". Mike McTigue, conqueror of the "Astoria Assassin", Paul Berlenbach, putting up a gallant fight against a much younger and heavier opponent, but nevertheless eliminated from consideration as a heavyweight contender. Jack Sharkey, the "Fighting Gob", beat old Mike, to be sure, but lost a lot of prestige acquired when he defeated Harry Wills last fall.

Yea verily, the elimination tournament is rapidly eliminating everybody, and if the Maloney-Sharkey thing in May is a fizzle, it will be up to Dempsey—already badly beaten by Tunney—to fight Paulino and then save the day—financially speaking—by getting badly trimmed again by the Shakespearian Sharpshooter.

Feg Murray Says—

The columnists' millenium will be at hand when Arthur Hahn, professional at the Plum Hollow Golf Club, Michigan, gives lessons to that famous six-day bike rider, Oscar Egg.

New British Pugilist Puzzle To Promoters

(International News Service)

LONDON, Mar. 23.—Boxing promoters are asking themselves what manner of man is young Sandwina, eighteen year old son of the "Strong Woman" who has just knocked out Jack Stanley, the second best British heavyweight.

Inundated by challenges, Sandwina says he does not care whom he fights; all he wants is the best purse available. And if he wins his next two or three fights he is likely to ask for high figures.

The curious point is that Sandwina has only had seven fights—two in Germany and five in London. All his victories have been by the k. o. And British boxers are asking themselves whether he is a really great natural fighter or has the heavy-weight class in Britain sunk to even lower depths than was thought.

So far, Sandwina's only qualification seems to be terrific strength coupled with amazing pluck. All the boxing he knows could be taught in any gymnasium.

Of German parentage, born in America, Sandwina is a larger edition of Roland Todd. Those handling him think that in three years time he may be making fistic history.

Training Camps

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 23.—The Pirates play the fifth and last exhibition game of a series with the Mission Bells today after the Bells made it two apiece by swamping Donie Bush's warriors 10 to 3. Tomorrow the Pirates resume hostilities with the Seals here. Emil Yde was the victim of the slugging Missions on the mound.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—A squad of the Athletics leave today on a two day trip meeting Baltimore in Auburndale this afternoon and Buffalo at Palmetto tomorrow. The A's rout of the Boston Braves yesterday 15 to 4 gave them their second straight win in as many days.

BRADENTON, Fla.—Today is expected to determine whether or not Jack Scott, ex-Giant hurler will wear a Phils uniform this season. The veteran has been a stubborn holdout and President Baker has been asked to pass upon the flinger's demands. The Phillies play this afternoon at Palmetto.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Manager McCallister plans to start his Yanigan team against the Columbus A. A. in an exhibition game at Plant City today while the majority of the regulars go through a hard practice session here. Burnett, University of Florida athlete, will probably play first base for the Indians.

Columbus has already walloped the tribe twice during the present training season.

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—With the series all even at one victory each, the White Sox went out today determined to capture the third game of their four-game series with the Wichita Falls club of the Texas league. The locals routed Schalk's Proteges yesterday, 8 to 1. Lyons and Blankenship pitched.

AVALON, Cal.—The Cubs' regulars can beat everybody, it seems, but the scrubs, alias "Daisies," among their own outfit. After cleaning up Los Angeles and Hollywood teams, the Cubs returned here and lost their fourth straight to the Daisies. The score was 6 to 4. They will try again today.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—Somewhat stricken as to conscience by the indifference of their showing against the local Texas leaguers—in the exhibition meetings to date the Tigers go back this afternoon determined to whip San Antonio's Bears. The pitching assignment will be divided between Whitehill and Gibson.

This division of pitching duty between two moundsmen, instead of three, is the newest phase of George Moriarty's programme of conditioning for his pitchers.

Pirates Lack Pitching Power; Strong In Fielding And Hitting

(Editors—The following is a part of the series on reviews of the major league clubs sent from the training camps by International News Service staff writers. It is to be used in connection with the series being sent over the leased wire by Davis J. Walsh, International News Service Sports Editor.—I. N. S.)

PITTSBURGH PIRATES TRAINING CAMP, Paso Robles, Cal., Mar. 23.—Now that the board of strategy is no more, probabilities are that the Pittsburgh Pirates will get by nicely, thank you. May or may not win the National league pennant. You know how 'tis. Much depends on the pitching, and there isn't a terrific lot of power in that department, judging from major league standards.

But they'll get by. Plenty of speed on the infield and outfield. Sufficient hitting strength to make things more interesting for the other fellow. And sane, if not always safe management. This last should make a deal of difference.

A word about the board of tragedy, no more. Fred Clarke, once manager of the Pirates, was drafted to inject a bit of steam into the athletes last season. He injected more than that. He sat on the bench as a sort of appellate division to manage Bill McKechnie. Come to a certain situation and McKechnie would order the batter to bunt. Clarke would order him to hit. Whereupon the batter would compromise by striking out.

Some of the boys did not believe in compromise. Prominent among those whom was one Max Carey, a gentleman who studied for the ministry and so was strongly principled. Max had a following. Also, those whom he followed.

In place of the board or tragedy reigns one "Donie" Bush—little, but oh my! Donie runs the ball club—make no mistake about that. Young Sam Dreyfuss? Barney's son and heir-in-law is allowed to keep score and take tickets. That lets him out. Which is well, indeed, for the future of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Donie tends to the strategic work. If he says "bunt", they bunt. Looks as though the club might get along quite nicely.

There is some local significance in the fact that Californians and former coast leaguers are most highly considered in this matter of getting along nicely through the National league season.

Good Pitcher.

Ray Kremer, who all but wasted the best years of his baseball life trying to pull the Oaks out of the cellar, is now regarded by his cohorts as not only the ace pitcher of the club, but the ace of the National league, and the smartest chucker in the circuit to boot.

Paul Waner, who came up last season from the Seals with a minor league reputation to live down has not only lived it down, but has established a new reputation that is even more flattering.

Has Made Good.

Waner has more than made good. He became a regular his first season out, which is a record of some sort. Furthermore, he was given several significant votes in the league-wide contest for the most valuable player. This year he is counted as much a regular as is Bush himself.

The Pirates are not at all settled around second base. Eddie Moore, a mighty capable infielder, was one of those trans-shipped in the general shakeup of last fall which put the situation squarely up to Hal Rhyne, late shortstop of the Seals.

When Hal failed to deliver up to expectation, Joe Cronin, as a San Francisco boy, got his trial. Joe did his planstaking best, too, but neither could he quite deliver to major league standard. They're both good fielders, you understand—Ball hawks, whether in the air or on the ground, to right or to left, and both possessed of a fair throwing arm. But neither can seem to hit.

Rhyne Has Edge.

Rhyne has the edge, and probably will be the regular second-sacker. His hitting may look up.

Who else do you think is one of the most-talked-of prospects in camp? None other than Lloyd Waner, "Little Oke", brother of "Big Oke". They really think he can make the grade; "they" being again those who should know whereof they speak.

But somehow or other it is difficult to visualize Lloyd Waner as a major leaguer. Too slight, too wan and peaked in structure. You've got to be pretty rugged to stand the gaff up there.

Langford To Get $5,000 From Benefit

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Sam Langford, veteran heavyweight boxer, will receive $5,000, the full amount raised by a benefit bout instead of $75 a month, it was announced today. He will purchase a farm.

Pittsfield, which finished last in the Eastern League race last year, will take to the field this season with new club officials, a new manager and a team made up almost wholly of new players.

CHICAGO CUBS HAVE BETTER TEAM THAN LAST YEAR, SAYS McCARTHY

By HARRY NEILY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

AVALON, Catalina Islands, Calif.—"A better ball club than we had last year and you will recall there was a mathematical chance of our winning the National league championship up till the last two weeks of the season." That is the manner in which Manager Joseph McCarthy sums up the 1927 possibilities of the Chicago Cubs.

It appears during the training period as if strength had been needed where required. Last year the Bruins were at times a bit shy of outfielding and pitching. The infield was the steadiest in the National league and shattered all double play records in that organization which of itself is a sufficient demonstration of skill.

The most reliance is being placed in John Brillheart, a left hander acquired from Memphis, of the Southern association, and Luther Roy of New Orleans. These men did valiant work in the fast minor organization and in training looked the part of ball players. Brillheart won seventeen and lost nine games, while Roy compiled 26 victories while dropping eleven. This was one of the fastest minor leagues in the country.

Roy Is Big Fellow

Roy is a powerfully built chap whose facial resemblance to Mordecai Brown is startling. He also moves like the former Cub star. If he can pitch two-thirds as well McCarthy is likely to smother hugging himself to death. Brillheart has been up before, having had a tryout with Washington, but since that time has mastered control. He seems ready for the big league.

That just about disposes of the new pitchers. It is certain that Charley Root, last year's sensational youngster, Bob Osborn, Tony Kaufman, Percy Lee Jones, Guy Buch will be retained. McCarthy says he will start the season with ten hurlers, but these men with Roy and Brillheart will be the regulars. Joe Kaiser, from Fordham university, and Roy Hansen, a Chicago semi-pro, are too green but John Welch who was with the Cubs last year and did not acquire any record of any kind for the book, has filled out.

Root has started where he left off last season when he was second in the National league in point of earned runs per game and was hailed as "the most sensational young right hander in baseball."

The pitcher roster also comprises Henry Grapp, Jr., St. Petersburg, Va., and Gomer Wilson, Minneapolis. They probably will go out for seasoning.

Six Infielders

The Cubs will inauguarate the season with six infielders, according to McCarthy. The old order probably will prevail with Grimm at first, Adams at second, Cooney at short and Freigau at third. Newcomers are English, Kern and Wilke. Of course Charles Tolson, first basemen, is a holdover. The Los Angeles club wanted him but the Cubs needed protection at the initial sack.

English was purchased from Toledo from the American association, he was a holdout for a portion of the price and as yet has not showed as much as his associates. Clyde Beck can play anywhere on the diamond and field well but he did not hit a great deal for the Cubs after he was recalled from Milwaukee last autumn.

Frank Kern came from Okmulgee, Okla., where he batted .347. He doubled on the diamond and in the outfield. He is fast but a bit raw. Harry Wilke operated in Asheville, N. C., and batted .350 in a league of low classification.

The outfield offers some problems. Heathcote, Hack Wilson and Stephenson are sure of their jobs. Earl Webb, late of Louisville, is the best looking of the new arrivals. He is better than six feet high and last season batted .334. He had one fault—he hit to left field all the time, but by constant practice in the training camp he has learned to pull the ball to right field. He will be retained, as he is a powerful ball player.

Joe Kelly, pinch hitter, did so well in that job last year he can remain, as will Pete Scott. The management plans to begin with a half dozen flychasers, so all these men are assured of employment well into the campaign. It is suspected that Heathcote, Wilson and Stephenson will form the regular trio. Stephenson had bad legs last fall and if he falters Webb will be invited to complete. He is a faster fielder.

Luque To Confer With Herrmann Today

HAVANA, Mar. 23.—Adolph Luque, Cuban hurler, will leave today for a conference with Gary Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Reds. He is a holdout. The meeting will be held in Florida.

The first recognized billiard champion of America was Michael Phela of New York, who defeated John Seereiter in a match for the title held in Detroit in 1859. Phelan retained the title for four years, meeting all comers, and finally losing to Dudley Kavanaugh, who remained the champion for two years. In those days the championship matches were for 1,200 points, caroms, played on a pocket table, with four balls.

Official figures compiled in relating to the new betting tax show that a total of $1,500,000,000 was wagered on horse races in Great Britain last year.

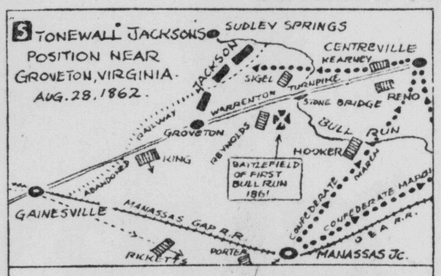
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Jackson Makes a Stand.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

IN THE AFTERNOON OF AUGUST 28 (1862) KEARNEY'S FEDERAL DIVISION ENCOUNTERED JACKSON'S REAR GUARD NORTH OF MANASSAS JUNCTION. AFTER A BRIEF CLASH THE CONFEDERATES RETREATED IN THE DIRECTION OF THE SUDLEY SPRINGS ROAD. THINKING THIS AN INDICATION THAT JACKSON WAS AT CENTREVILLE, POPE ORDERED THE UNION FORCES TO MARCH AGAINST THAT PLACE.



JACKSON'S MARCH TO THE NORTHEAST WAS MERELY A RUSE TO MISLEAD THE FEDERALS. REACHING CENTREVILLE, HE UNITED HIS FORCES AND, MOVING WEST OF BULL RUN, TOOK UP A STRONG POSITION BETWEEN GROVETON AND SUDLEY WHERE HE CONCEALED HIS FORCE AS BEST HE COULD AND WAITED FOR THE COMING OF LONGSTREET.

TOWARD SUNDOWN OF THE 28TH KING'S DIVISION OF McDOWELL'S CORPS, MARCHING UP THE WARRENTON TURNPIKE TO CENTREVILLE, STUMBLED UPON JACKSON'S RIGHT AT GROVETON. THERE WAS SOME SHARP FIGHTING UNTIL ABOUT 9 P. M., WHEN THE FEDERALS FELL BACK FOR THE NIGHT.

EARLY THE NEXT MORNING, GEN. LONGSTREET WITH THE OTHER HALF OF LEE'S ARMY CAME EASTWARD THROUGH THOROUGHFARE GAP. THE BODY OF FEDERALS, UNDER RICKETTS, WHICH McDOWELL HAD LEFT TO GUARD THE PASS RETREATED BEFORE LONGSTREET, FIRST TO GAINESVILLE AND THEN TOWARD BRISTOE STATION.

TOMORROW—SECOND BATTLE OF MANASSAS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—Flushed with the success which attended their efforts in the last two or three days, the bears flooded the market with selling orders in early trading today. They encountered strong opposition in the railroad stocks, however and a few of the industrial leaders, the latter including the motors stocks and the steels and coppers.
Lackawanna was the feature of the railroad group, extending its rally an additional 7 points to 173, on reports that the directors would distribute a portion of the $80,000,000 holdings of stocks and property before linking up with any other road in a merger. Atchison was firm, and the balance of the rail list fairly steady.
Reports of automobile price slashing, and a possible consolidation of a number of smaller companies brought liquidation into the low-priced motor shares. Dodge declined to the year's low price of 20¾.
Sale of $6,500,000 debentures by Independent Oil and Gas Company confirmed the reports of new financing by the oil producers. Standard and Independent Oils slid downward to the year's lowest range of prices. Standard Oil of New Jersey was freely offered at the year's lowest price of 37.
The 4½ percent call loan rate continued.

Americans Like Coffee, Estimate 500 Cups Each

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—American coffee drinkers had a big year in 1926 with a per capita consumption of about 500 cups, according to Edward H. Montgomery, chief of the foodstuffs department.
The percapita consumption was about a pound heavier than in 1925.
Imports for last year amounted to 1,500,000,000 pounds, establishing a new record. The value of imports was approximately $323,351,000 with retail sales of coffee probably double that figure.
Seventy per cent of the foreign purchases of coffee came from Brazil.

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 23.—Floating of giant log rafts from the Pacific Northwestern mills to Los Angeles harbor and San Diego will be renewed this year, according to reports received here today.
For a time the great masses of floating timber were a common sight to passengers on coast-wise vessels, but during recent years the practice has been abandoned. Each raft, it was said, will contain from three to five million feet of timber.
When storms break the rafts the giant logs, tossing in the waves, greatly endanger shipping.
